

China Claims Nuclear Missile

TEST IS 4TH FOR PEKING

... Mao's Thought Praised

Tokyo (AP)—Red China claimed Friday the development of a missile system to carry nuclear bombs. It announced a guided missile with a nuclear warhead, lofted Thursday, "accurately hit the target at the appointed distance, effecting a nuclear explosion." Mao Tse-tung's thought was praised.

How far the missile traveled was withheld, but the test recalled a prediction last March by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that the Chinese within two or three years would have an atomic strike capability of 500-700 miles.

AEC Report
The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission reported late Thursday it had detected an explosion in the general area of the Lop Nor testing site in Sinkiang province and described it as in the low-to-low-intermediate range—about the same as the first Chinese test.

Low yield is the equivalent of less than 20,000 tons of TNT while low-intermediate would be in the 200,000- to 1,000,000-ton range, presumably closer to the 200,000 in this case.

At the same time, the AEC reported the Soviet Union conducted a nuclear underground test today in its northern testing area of Novaya Zemlya. Seismic signals indicated this was in the intermediate-to-high-yield range. High is above 1,000,000 tons equivalent.

While LBJ in Siam
The blast—the fourth announced by Peking since 1964—came while President Johnson was visiting neighboring Thailand. It thus raised speculation that its timing may have been designed to take Asian eyes off the President's trip and the aftermath of the Manila conference.

Peking portrayed the blast as good news for Hanoi, saying:

"The possession by the Chinese people of guided missiles and nuclear weapons is a great encouragement to the heroic Vietnamese people, who are waging a war of resistance against U.S. aggression."

The official New China News Agency said China is developing its nuclear arsenal to oppose the "nuclear monopoly and nuclear blackmail by the United States and the Soviet Union, acting in collusion."

The first atomic device was exploded Oct. 16, 1964, the second May 14, 1964. U.S. officials put both in the range of the American bomb dropped over Hiroshima in World War II, equal to about 20,000 tons of TNT.

In exploding the third one last May 9 the Chinese said the bomb contained some "thermonuclear material," indicating they were groping toward the development of a hydrogen bomb.

"We solemnly declare once again that at no time and in no circumstances will China be the first to use nuclear weapons." NCNA said.

Mao's Thought
It said "the commanders and fighters of the People's Liberation Army who took part in this test and all other personnel who contributed to our country's development of guided missiles and nuclear weapons" had assured success of the test "by enthusiastically responding to the call of comrade Lin Biao and holding high the great red banner of Mao Tse-tung's thought."

Party Chairman Mao was praised six times in the announcement, which credited China's scientific and defensive advances to "the brilliant illumination of Mao Tse-tung's thought."

Defense Minister Lin is Mao's heir-apparent.

Pedestrian Killed Near Boys Town

Omaha (UPI)—Robert E. McDonald, 62, a Boys Town employee, was killed Thursday night when struck by a car as he crossed Highway 6 at 140th and Dodge Sts. just west of Boys Town.

The State Safety Patrol identified the driver of the car as Thomas A. Wooten, 31, of Omaha.

The death raised the state traffic fatality count for the year to 344, compared with 316 on this date last year.

NSEA District I Tabs Scott President-Elect

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Verl Scott, superintendent of schools at Seward, was elected vice president and president-elect of the District I Nebraska State Education Association here Thursday.

Scott, in his first year as superintendent at Seward, will serve as the District I president in 1968.

Allan Hansen, principal at Sheridan School in Lincoln, will succeed Mrs. Mildred Conkling of Crete as president in January. He was elected at the 1965 NSEA convention.

Scott, active in the State

School Administrators Association, received both his B.S. and masters of education degrees from the University of Nebraska. He taught at Seward before assuming the superintendent position.

Scott defeated Dale Hall of Millard.

Elected secretary was Mrs. Frances Kaeding of York. Buren Thomas, algebra teacher at Lincoln Northeast High School, was named treasurer.

Donald Haberman of Beatrice was elected to a four-year term as executive committee member.

Other District I officers elected Thursday were:

—Elementary planning board: Jerry L. Sandy of Lincoln, Charles Evans of Friend and Mrs. Lois A. Hegstrom of Lincoln, two-year terms; Mrs. Eunice Bogle of Crete, one-year term.

—Junior High Planning Board: Roger Malone of Beatrice and Roger Knaub of Lincoln, two-year term; Gwynn Gerlach of York, one-year term.

A total of 4,316 educators registered for the two-day teachers' convention at Pershing Auditorium through Friday. Some 3,000 registrants were members of the District I area with members of other districts, students, retired teachers and guests adding to the total.

After a general session Thursday morning featuring presidential consultant Gen. Maxwell Taylor, the educators attended some 50 special interest luncheons and meetings during the afternoon and evening.

Teachers had an opportunity to attend sessions both on instructional activities and professional relations.

Presentations on incorporating new ideas such as aerospace and economics into the regular curriculum, new methods for teaching subjects, new emphases in certain areas of the curriculum and demonstrations of new teaching methods and equipment drew many of the educators.

Some 200 social science teachers from secondary schools heard Sen. Carl Curtis discuss his views on "what is right with America."

He told the educators that he "prefers to believe America has achieved its numerous rewards because men are willing to give just a little bit more."

A well-known author on creative education drew large audiences for two sessions on creative dramatics. Mrs. Margaret Woods outlined usages and specific examples of creativity for all phases of education in the classroom.

CARL ROWAN

in more than 150 papers, termed the "black power" slogan "unfortunate," because its meaning is subject to so many interpretations.

"It has confused Negroes, alienated whites, divided the civil rights movement and turned out to have nothing but a destructive impact."

Negroes were blamed partially for the "so-called white backlash" by Rowan, but the award-winning journalist also holds the American press responsible for part of it.

The irresponsible Negro or civil rights leader who has the ability to "throw out the inflammatory remarks" gets extensive coverage and is portrayed as the new movement leader, he complained.

Rowan was appointed as head of the USIA to replace Edward R. Murrow by President John Kennedy in 1963. Prior to that the journalist had served as Ambassador to Finland for a year and deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

Washington (UPI)—The Denver, Colo., Juvenile Court will receive a $41,923 federal grant to continue a year-old experimental program for treatment of teen-agers psychologically addicted to glue sniffing, the U.S. Welfare Administration said.

'Race Problems Crucial In International Struggle'

Carl Rowan, syndicated columnist and former head of the United States Information Agency, said here late Thursday that racial problems are a "crucial matter in the international struggle."

Rowan, in Lincoln to address the District I Nebraska State Education Association Friday, pointed out that the Viet Nam conflict is affected by communist propaganda that "big fat white rich imperialists are trying to do in the colored patriots in Viet Nam."

"Part of the United States struggle is making the world realize this is not so," Rowan said in an interview, declaring that racial problems are no longer just a "matter of relationships between white and colored citizens."

Discussing the possibility of a white backlash vote in the November elections on the assumption that it hurts Negroes, the noted journalist claimed that whites only will be "hanging millstones around the necks of their own children."

The tragedy is, he said, "that a second-class man, elected out of foolish fears, will give second-class government."

"Any citizen would conclude that a white backlash is something America cannot afford," Rowan emphasized.

The columnist had no predictions on the outcome of any elections, but pointed out in a speech delivered to the NSEA District III convention at Norfolk Thursday morning, that "fears are expressed that the strife in San Francisco will give the governorship of California to GOP candidate Ronald Reagan."

"Reagan is a conservative who has opposed fair housing and other civil rights laws," Rowan said.

Curtis All Out For Win

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 17th in a series of articles to help acquaint voters with issues and candidates in the coming general election.)

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

"I'm Senator Curtis," he said, grasping the hands of welders, machinists, truck drivers and laborers in one of Omaha's many industrial tracts not far from the Missouri River.

Shouting against the thunderous noise at Eaton Metal Products Corporation, Curtis introduced himself to workers who peered out from behind metal cylinders and from inside metal tanks.

At Paxton and Vierling Steel Company's huge works, the men nodded from behind their welding masks as the senator moved among them.

Work gloves came sliding off for the handshake greeting, and Curtis quickly grabbed the hands of be-grimed workmen who hesitated to offer a greasy hand to the senator.

Curtis waved to workers who were out of reach.

Coffee Break
At Fuchs Machinery and Supply on North 11th, he took time for a cup of coffee and an informal chat with office personnel.

They had some questions for him about senatorial mail, about the "right-to-work" section of the Taft-Hartley Act, about inflation, about Viet Nam.

There are two sides to the right-to-work question, he noted, but one must balance the arguments assailing "free riders" against the arguments for "freedom of choice."

Hundreds of workers later, the senator was on his way to a noon luncheon at the Castle Hotel in downtown Omaha.

Toughest Race
Curtis admits that his 1966 senatorial clash with Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison "might be" his toughest political race in 24 years of congressional service.

"He is probably the best-known Democrat and most experienced vote-getter his party has had in quite a few years," Curtis points out.

And so, the senator says, he has geared his campaign for re-election to "whatever is necessary to win."

Curtis campaigned on weekends in 1965 and 1966, re-

Relaxing Johnson Dispatches Two Envoys On Peace Trips

Bang Saen, Thailand (UPI)—President Johnson sent two ranking U.S. diplomats on special peace missions to Asian capitals Thursday while he himself got some needed rest at a picturesque Gulf of Siam resort and prepared for talks with Thailand's military and political leaders.

The chief executive arrived from Manila for a three-day visit in this strategic nation where some of the most important U.S. Air Force installations in Southeast Asia are situated.

Johnson issued a special statement as he departed Manila, again pledging that the United States and its allies in Viet Nam seek an honorable end to the war.

"We want this war to end today," the President declared. "We want to end it this hour. But as it was said at the conference in Manila, we have followed every hint and made every gesture. Now . . . the ball is in the other court."

There was no immediate comment from the President on Communist China's announcement it had successfully exploded a missile-launched nuclear warhead.

Johnson sent special presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman and State Department specialist in Asian affairs William P. Bundy on parallel missions Thursday to key Asian capitals.

Harriman arrived in Jakarta where he was expected to discuss with Indonesian officials the possibility that they could mediate in the Viet Nam conflict. Jakarta has diplomatic ties with Hanoi.

Bundy was traveling to Japan and Formosa to inform leaders there of details of the Manila summit conference.

Johnson was meeting with Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn, who greeted the chief executive when the White House jetliner Air Force One touched down at Utapao, largest U.S. air base in Southeast Asia, capable of handling even the giant eight-jet B52 bomber.

A thunderstorm cut short the President's inspection of the base and he and Mrs. Johnson were taken by helicopter to Bang Saen, a scenic resort 68 miles southeast of Bangkok.

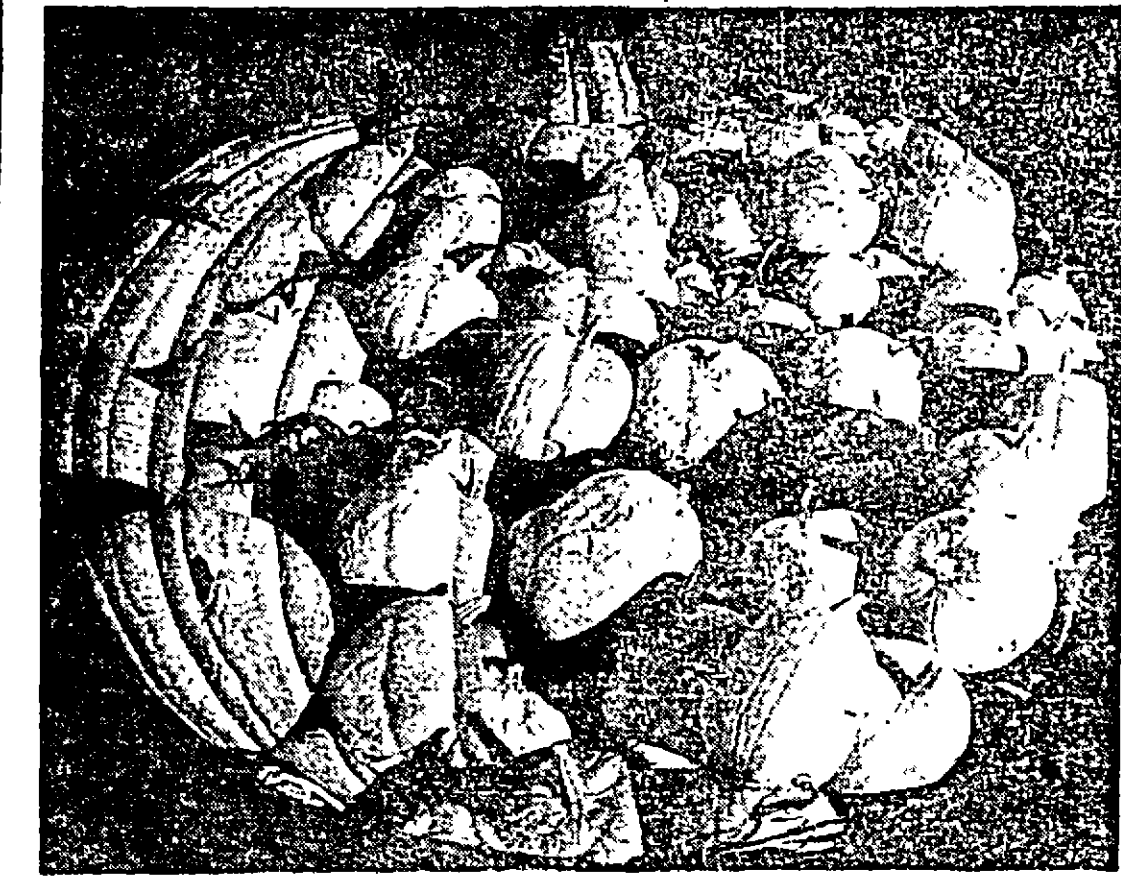

The President settled down for some much-needed rest.

Washington sources said Johnson planned an extensive election campaign swing when he returns to the United States next week. Johnson himself hinted at this Saturday before leaving Australia.

Reports indicated Johnson would leave the White House Nov. 4 for a tour taking him to Massachusetts, Illinois, Nevada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. He was expected to go to his L.B.J. Ranch in Texas Nov. 6, two days before the U.S. elections.

The chief executive was obviously buoyed by his visit Wednesday to American servicemen at Cam Ranh Bay in South Viet Nam.

"All of them were inspiring," he said of the GIs he met. "You knew that courage was no stranger to these men."

Police Force 'Up' For 'Big Game'

By FAYE COLBURN
Star Staff Writer

Extra precautions will be taken by the Lincoln Police Department to maintain control during the Nebraska-Missouri football game Saturday, according to Lt. Donald G. Smith.

Smith said he could not elaborate on the details of this extra coverage, but Saturday's game presents special problems.

He said that last week's fights at Boulder and last year's fights during the Nebraska-Missouri game in Columbia have led to precautionary measures.

He emphasized the television coverage of the game as one of the great challenges to be handled. TV cameramen will be crowding around the field trying to get good pictures along with photographers from the newspapers, and will present a safety hazard, he said.

Television coverage will present another worry, Smith said, in the way of a schedule change. He explained that out of town people may not be aware that the game starts at 12:15 and may arrive in Lincoln at the last minute, creating a rush and a few short tempers.

The earlier game time, he added will make the game rush earlier, simultaneous to the noon rush of Lincoln people who work only a half day Saturday.

Traffic, Smith said, is always a problem on the days when Nebraska plays football at home. Ordinarily it requires 45 to 50 men to direct traffic before and after game, into and out of Lincoln, he said.

Men are taken from four shifts to fill in this gap, he explained. He said this means some men may put in 12-hour days.

He noted this only affects the traffic division of the police force. Lincoln, he said, is controlled as usual by the other branches of the force. Smith pointed out another difficulty connected with the football games—the looting of cars in parking lots surrounding the stadium. He said officers stationed at the top of Memorial Stadium with binoculars have been watching the parking lots since last year.

During the Utah State game this year, he said, several youngsters were caught breaking into parked autos. There was no further disturbance however at the last home game, he added.

In addition to the policemen stationed at the rim of the stadium, Smith said, there are men at the bottom, spotting for trouble.

He continued that there are off duty officers dispersed throughout the stadium, watching the game with one eye open for any disturbances in which their aid might be needed.

U.N. Ends South Africa Rule Over SW Africa

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly proclaimed Thursday night the termination of South Africa's mandate over South West Africa.

It declared that henceforth the 318,000-square-mile territory "is a direct responsibility of the United Nations."

Culminating a long and bitter debate the 121-nation assembly approved by a vote of 114 to 2 with 3 abstentions a resolution setting out the most drastic U.N. action ever contemplated in an effort to compel South Africa to give up its rule over the territory, roughly the size of Texas and New York state combined.

Warning Hilgard Muller, South Africa's foreign minister, warned the assembly in advance that his country regarded the resolution as illegal and therefore could not be expected to agree to its demands. He warned also of consequences that could stem from what he described as "reckless action."

The United States and the Soviet Union voted for the resolution, while France, Britain and Malawi were among those who abstained.

The United States voted yes despite rejection of arduous efforts by Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg to persuade the Asian-African countries to accept amendments which he said would "harmonize the views of the assembly."

South Africa, Portugal Negative votes were cast by South Africa and Portugal.

The resolution reflected bitterness among the African nations against South Africa's racial segregation policies and their alleged application to the territory it took over in 1920 under a League of Nations mandate.

The resolution declared that South Africa had failed to fulfill its obligations under the mandate to the approximately 500,000 inhabitants of the territory and "has in fact, disavowed the mandate."

The resolution also established a 14-nation special committee to recommend practical means for U.N. administration of the territory so that it could be placed on the road to independence.

No Provisions Neither the League of Nations Covenant nor the mandate for South West Africa contained any provisions for revoking the mandate.

South Africa seized South West Africa from its German colonial rulers in World War I.

It has repeatedly refused to turn it over to the U.N. trusteeship system, successor to the league mandate system in preparation of dependent peoples for independence from imperial rule.

Suit Dismissed Last July 18 the World Court at The Hague dismissed a suit brought by Ethiopia and Liberia in an effort to compel South Africa to account to the United Nations for the way it administers South West Africa.

That decision was a blow to the African nations, who had waited six years in anticipation of a favorable outcome. Ethiopia and Liberia acted on behalf of the Organization of African Unity (OAU).

Frustrated by the court's decision, the Africans turned to the U.N. General Assembly, where their 38 votes constitute the largest single bloc.

COP CRIES AT MASS FUNERAL IN WALES

A policeman weeps as people stand in cemetery during a mass funeral Thursday in Aberfan, Wales, for 81 child victims of the Oct. 21 slag heap avalanche. The children died when the slide crushed the school. At least 145 persons were killed. In Washington, three U.S.

government geologists warned that a similar disaster could happen in this country. They said it could be prevented with proper drainage and planning to prevent population growth in danger areas.

Eight Civilians Die In Ambush Mistake

Saigon (AP)—Eight Vietnamese civilians were killed and seven others were wounded near Saigon in the pre-dawn hours Thursday when an ambush patrol from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division mistook them for Viet Cong.

A U.S. military spokesman said all 15 of the civilians were women and children, although he could not say how many there were of each.

The U.S. command announced 64 Americans were killed in combat and 396 wounded Oct. 22, compared to 74 dead and 432 wounded the previous week.

But while the communist forces were dodging American troops, they hammered hard at South Vietnamese troops in six major actions last week. South Vietnamese casualties soared to a weekly high of 962 for the year—339 killed and 623 wounded.

The count of communist dead also increased last week. The U.S. command reported 1,229 enemy troops, killed, 161 more than the week before.

336,000 U.S. Men The roll call of American troops in South Viet Nam continued to grow, reaching 336,000 men as of last Saturday, an increase of 5,000.

Over North Viet Nam, continuing bad weather cut U.S. bombing missions to only 75 Wednesday, about half the usual daily number. The raids also were reduced by the fire which put the aircraft carrier Oriskany out of action.

Oriskany To Repair Sile The Oriskany reached Subic Bay Naval Base in the Philippines early Friday to undergo repairs and immediately began disembarking the bodies of 43 men killed in the fire.

Ambulances were standing by to take off 16 men seriously injured. The carrier's combat aircraft were flown off before the ship arrived at Subic.

The ambush incident, ironically enough, occurred during Operation Allentown, in which a multibattalion force of 1st Infantry Division men is carrying out a search and destroy operation in connection with efforts to resettle civilians in the area.

The Americans are trying to secure the area by clearing it of communists.

During Curfew A U.S. spokesman said the ambush patrol spotted a group of persons approaching its area eight miles north of Saigon during the nightly curfew in the area from dusk to dawn when movement is forbidden.

The spokesman said that a Vietnamese national policeman accompanying the patrol told the Americans the persons must be Viet Cong. The patrol then opened fire.

An official investigation was ordered.

Parents Report Lt. Dinneen Safe

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dinneen of Rt. 1, Lincoln, Thursday received word of the safety of their son, Lt. Robert Dinneen, an engineer in charge of the main engine on the Oriskany.

Dinneen, who is serving his second tour on the ship, said the Oriskany had been due to return to the United States at the end of November.

Coalition Crumbles; Erhard In Minority

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard decided Thursday to run West Germany with a minority government after the four ministers of the Free Democratic Party resigned in a budget row.

It was the first time in the history of the 17-year-old Federal Republic that this has been tried.

Erhard's Christian Democratic Party has only 245 of the 496 votes in the Bundestag. But he can only be overthrown if the opposition gets together and elects a new man. This has never been tried either.

The crisis arose over the 1967 budget, heavily burdened by promises to buy arms in the United States. Erhard saw no way to balance it except by raising taxes. The Free Democrats, with important local elections coming up, resigned rather than approve.

Erhard replaced them with Christian Democrats who will take on their jobs in addition to their present portfolios.

Johann B. Gradi, already refugee minister, will replace Deputy Chancellor Erich Mende as minister of all-German affairs. Werner Dollinger, minister of federal property, will take over the ministry of economic cooperation from Walter Scheel. Kurt Schmuck, minister for economic affairs, will also be finance minister, instead of Rolf Dahlgren. Bruno Heck, minister of family affairs, will also run the housing ministry instead of Ewald Bucher.

How long the present arrangement can last is questionable. Herbert Wehner, deputy chairman of the opposition Socialist Party, told a party caucus: "The Christian Democrats are hardly agreed on any other point, but they now agree on one: they want to get rid of Erhard."

New York (AP)—Shoppers are sampling, pinching, switching and snatching their ways through the supermarkets these days, leaving a trail of empty cookie packages and licked lids.

"If we don't catch 10 people a day at breaking open packages we're kind of disappointed," says Fred Gallant, manager of a Safeway store in Dallas, Tex.

"People switch labels on meat to get 20 or 30 cents off, mash the tomatoes and pull the leaves off the lettuce," he said.

Jelly Samplers

An Associated Press survey of supermarket managers and shoppers found numerous reports of melon-punching, cookie-nibbling, jelly-tasting shoppers sampling the grocer's wares on an eat-now, pay-later (if-at-all) plan.

The supermarkets complain it costs them millions of dollars a year and contributes to higher prices.

"We've had women open a peanut butter jar and dig their fingers in it for a taste," said an Atlanta, Ga., supermarket manager.

A Santa Ana, Calif., market claimed it lost $1,100 in two months through the switching of meat price tags.

"A customer will take two meat packages out of the refrigerated bin, one low-priced and the other high," said an A&P manager in Dallas. "She'll walk up and down the aisles until she's in a secluded spot and then change the labels."

Picky Pickers

Phillip White, a Dallas grocer, said some shoppers are "so picky they do more damage to the fruits and vegetables than was done in the entire shipping process."

"People will take an 89-cent steak off a round steak and put it on a $1.59-a-pound sirloin," said Bill Simmons, manager of Ralph's Market in Arcadia, Calif., who added he also had seen shoppers switch eggs in a carton and put butter in a margarine carton.

"Basically everybody has a streak of dishonesty in them and they'll do it if they think they can get away with it," Simmons said.

Egg Assay

A Safeway store spokesman in Los Angeles said he knew of a woman who weighed dozens of eggs so she could pick out the heaviest 12 for her carton.

"We find cereals opened often," said an Atlanta supermarket manager. "Often it is a child who has opened it to find the prize in it."

"These days a child often knows which boxes contain the prizes. Occasionally you'll find a mother who brings the box to the cashier and pays for it. Often she simply replaces it on the shelf."

Quitting Kids Two small children said she frequently opens a box of cookies and lets the kids nibble them while she shops.

"It keeps them quiet and happy and I can get my shopping done much faster," she said. "Of course I pay for the cookies on the way out."

But a woman in Atlanta said she had put packages her child opened back on the shelf.

"I figure I do enough shopping there for them to absorb the loss," she said.

Group Haunted By Frustration

... Fund Lack Delays Projects

By DEAN TERRILL

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Fairbury—Imagine history hobbyists who hesitate to take over a collection that all its members agree is "irreplaceable and invaluable."

That's the unusual position of the Jefferson County Historical Society, just offered the virtual museum of member John Knobel. The offer will be accepted—but with admitted misgivings.

"The trouble is we're one of the richest counties in the state historically, but our organization is one of the poorest financially," said president Mrs. Walter McKee.

Lacking funds to complete several projects already begun, the group nonetheless looked at Knobel's generosity as a "once-in-a-lifetime offer." The retired hardwareman is even throwing in a nearly new storage building and two lots at a nominal price.

"Deserve Preservation" "At the rate we're taking on things we can't finish, our great grandchildren will still be working on it," joked the president. "Of course we're pleased to get them and they deserve preservation, but one-dollar dues from 265 members don't stretch very far."

A monument recently erected near the site of old Rose Creek city, for example, will have to wait a year or so for the $140 plaque which goes on it. There are big restoration plans for the Smith time kiln north of town and a recently-acquired country school, but little progress has been possible so far.

Other monuments are contemplated, historical pamphlets are written but unpublished, valuable microfilm histories are gathering dust for want of a projector. There has been talk for years—but only talk—of buying and developing famed Rock Creek Station.

Coming within 30-odd votes of success two years ago on a 1/10 mill levy for Historical Society use, the group is bringing the proposal before voters again Nov. 8. County approval would mean some $3,500 annually for maintaining and preserving historical sites and items.

Valuable Boyd Files "The funds definitely would not be for a museum, although they could be used for operation if a museum is ever acquired some other way," stated Mrs. McKee. "What we need now is money to care for things entrusted to our care."

Among collections the society hopes to acquire and preserve are the files of the late Levi Boyd, who had gathered voluminous material on Jefferson County. The petition calling for a repeat vote on the levy was filed under his direction shortly before his death a year ago.

Nebraska Firm Has Part In Aussie Project

Perth, Australia (AP)—Nebraska Consolidated Mills, of Omaha, Neb., is engaged in a project to see whether mid-western farming techniques will bear fruit on a vast stretch of arid Australian land.

The project is a joint venture in which one of the partners is entertainer Art Linkletter. A spokesman for the Nebraska firm said a decision will be made later on whether it joins the venture as a partner. It presently is conducting crop testing.

The partnership has taken a 50 year lease from the Australian government on a million acres 100 miles south-west of Eoome.

Testing thus far has involved sorghum, milo and soybeans.

Nebraska Consolidated Mills is carrying on a similar project in the Dominican Republic. It also has operated in Puerto Rico and has projects in Spain and France.

The Australians apparently have been intrigued with the background of the firm's liaison man between the Omaha headquarters and the Australian operation. He is Calvin Orlando Boone, a descendant of frontiersman Daniel Boone.

Parade Inaugurates Stamp, Honors Originators Of Idea

Sioux City, Iowa (AP)—Bands played and marchers paraded here to inaugurate a new postal stamp in appreciation of U.S. servicemen and to honor school children who thought up the idea.

The colorful ceremony in which reds, whites and blues predominate marked issuance of the five-cent stamp which went on sale throughout the United States Thursday.

It was first sold aboard the hospital ship USS Repose in the waters of the Viet Nam at the hour of the observance here. The stamp bears the American flag, Statue of Liberty and the words "We appreciate our servicemen."

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien was on the reviewing stand as 4,000 marchers passed by and about 8,500 spectators watched.

In the parade were last year's ninth graders of North Junior High for whom the ceremony was arranged. They raised money for billboards and bombarded government officials with letters until the idea of the stamp jelled.

There were 55 units in the parade, men from the Army, Air Force and Navy and many floats.

"Now they'll know you care," said one float which the youngsters themselves entered.

"North Junior, your Navy appreciates you," said another from the U.S. Navy.

The celebration also marked the 25th anniversary of the U.S. Savings Bond program.

Guy Cooper Backs Gov. Morrison

Humboldt — "Nebraskans who are looking for a record of performance in economic government should vote for Frank B. Morrison for U.S. senator," Guy Cooper said Thursday.

Cooper is a Humboldt businessman whose family has been prominent in Republican politics for three generations. His brother, John, was Morrison's opponent in the 1960 gubernatorial election.

"Frank Morrison has proved himself as a force for economical and efficient government," Cooper said. "His opponent has spent 28 years pursuing the wolf of government without ever bringing it to bay."

"Governor Morrison has shown he practices economy rather than preaching it. I cannot say the same for my party's candidate."

Reduced Speed Limits Ordered In School Zones

Omaha (AP)—Gov. Frank Morrison said that 45 miles an hour is "not a safe speed" near any school and added he has instructed the State Roads Department to reduce speed limits in all school zones in residential areas.

At the same time, he said the speed limit at the 90th Street and Western Avenue intersection in Omaha would be reduced from 45 miles an hour to 25.

Morrison said also he would ask the Roads Department and every community in Nebraska to reassess their traffic safety needs, adding "if the safety experts don't like it, they can resign and we'll find new ones."

A 6-year-old Omaha boy, Mason Jones, was killed at the northwest Omaha intersection Monday and his death brought pleas for improved safety measures at the intersection.

Supervision Over Ponca Tribe Ends

By The Associated Press
The Bureau of Indian Affairs announced Thursday the end of supervision over the Ponca Indian Tribe of Nebraska, culminating a move begun by tribal decision in 1956.

Termination of federal supervision over the Nebraska Poncas brings to a halt the special services provided them by the federal government because of their status as Indians.

Northeast Area

The reservation lands of the Nebraska Poncas comprised 847 acres in the northeastern part of Nebraska. Most of the 442 tribal members are off-reservation Indians, living in Omaha and other urban communities. Under provisions of a 1962 congressional act providing for termination of federal supervision the tribe voted overwhelmingly in favor of distribution of assets.

The Ponca Tribe of Native Americans of Nebraska was organized in 1936 and Oklahoma Poncas were organized separately in 1950. The Oklahoma Poncas are not affected by this termination.

Elderly Curtis Driver Killed

Curtis (AP)—An accident involving an auto and a self-propelled road packer has taken the life of Arthur Davis, 82, of Curtis.

Sheriff Harold F. Flora said the accident occurred Wednesday evening 3½ miles south of Curtis on a portion of Nebraska Highway 235 which is being used while under construction.

He said the packer, operated by Donald Davidson of Stockville, was halted at the time. Davidson was not hurt. Davis was alone in the car.

'56 NU Graduate Awarded $2,500 Hauck Fellowship

Mrs. Shirley Ekvall of Cincinnati, Ohio, a 1956 graduate of the University of Nebraska, has been awarded the first $2,500 Hazel M. Hauck fellowship by the American Dietetic Association.

The human nutrition grant honors the late Dr. Hazel M. Hauck, professor emerita of foods and nutrition at Cornell University.

Mrs. Ekvall is working toward her doctoral degree in nutrition at the University of Cincinnati. She received her master's from the University of California at Berkeley.

Swift Directors Hold Monthly Meet At G.I.

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
Grand Island—Officials of a company that will pour some $40 million into the economy of the Grand Island area this year got a VIP welcome here Thursday.

The board of directors of Swift and Co. held its monthly meeting here, took a tour of the local plant and met at a noon luncheon with city business leaders and state officials.

It was the first time the company, known predominantly for its meat packing operations, had held a board meeting outside the borders of Illinois.

Swift and Co. will spend about $40 million here this year in salaries and in the purchase of livestock, said Chairman Porter M. Jarvis.

"part of the forward thrust" of industrial development in Nebraska that has made the state the most rapidly improving in the Midwest in industrial development.

Sen. Roman Hruska complimented the operation of the packing industry "in the spirit of the free market."

"We're proud they're meeting with us, said Chamber of Commerce Manager Dick Good, noting that the city will get some beneficial exposure by having the meeting in town.

"These are some of the top businessmen in the country, affiliated with several other companies," he said. "It is significant that they are here to see our city and that we have a chance to get acquainted with them."

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: For the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, temperatures will average two to five degrees below normal in the east and near normal in the west. Normal highs are near 60. Normal lows are near 40. Cooler during the beginning and end of the period with little or no precipitation expected.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, temperatures will average two to five degrees below normal in the east. Normal highs are near 60. Normal lows are near 40. Cooler during the beginning and end of the period with little or no chance of precipitation.

Summary of Conditions

A wind shift line is moving southeastward and now stretches from central Illinois across central Nebraska to northwest Kansas. Winds from this line will be from the northwest and will bring cooler temperatures to the area Friday. A low developing in southeast Montana will also bring cloudiness and cooler temperatures to the two state area Saturday.

Snow will be partly cloudy to cloudy over the area Friday and Saturday. The northern counties of Nebraska can expect a little rain or rain mixed with snow Saturday. This will be the only precipitation in the area of consequence.

Priority For Streets

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With one exception, the opening of 33rd through Antelope Park, there is agreement with the 1965-66 annual report of the City-County Planning Commission. The commission urges the city to establish a high priority for the completion of at least the major elements of the city's comprehensive street plan. The recommendation was made in recognition of "the knotty problem of finance."

As for 33rd, this street has been treated as an arterial despite the fact that it is almost totally residential. It is an arterial now, for instance, by virtue of whimsical action on the part of the city's traffic engineering department from South to Sheridan Blvd. It is a whimsical action because this section of the street has none of the earmarks of an arterial. It passes through strictly residential property and traverses only a very short distance. It was designated as an arterial strictly for political reasons—to lend weight to the opening through the park, not because it is arterial in nature.

This is a practice to which we have long objected. The city has consistently established its arterials by practice and then put it into law. It erects appropriate stop signs and establishes the required speed limits and then says that the street, therefore, has become and shall be treated as an arterial.

It is about time the mayor and City Council started taking a larger hand in the designation of arterials and treatment of streets in general on the part of the traffic engineering department. The traffic engineers and planners have made a mistake on 33rd but are determined to bull the matter through.

To open 33rd through Antelope Park would seriously interfere with the new junior golf course that has just been established there. The course is scheduled to be open next spring and before anyone has even played a round on it, the traffic people want to massacre it. The opening would also cut right through the middle of the rental picnic area and shelter house in Antelope Park, destroying one of the most popular park facilities in the city of Lincoln. Additionally, the opening would tear out a great number of beautiful trees, leaving the park barren and unattractive. Further, a street through the park would be a liability from a general park and recreation point of view. It doesn't take any expert knowledge, just common sense, to know that an arterial street through the heart of a park is most inadvisable.

Antelope Park is already going to be denuded along its east side when Normal Blvd. from 33rd is extended southeast as a part of Capital Parkway. Dozens of beautiful trees will fall to this improvement project, with a good question as to whether a single tree will be left in the wake. If it were possible, this should be avoided, too, but it isn't. Capital Parkway is a vital arterial link in our street system and the park loss sustained as a result thereof is just something which we will have to put up with. The same thing is not true in regard to 33rd. This street does not have to be opened except as part of a planning and engineering dream.

It is true that 33rd is one of the few streets that, if opened through the park, would run the entire north-south distance of the city. But just how essential is this? Who, we would like to know, wants to travel from 33rd and Highway 2 to 33rd and Cornhusker Highway? North-south travel in Lincoln is much more limited than that. Most of such travel is done only to reach other major points of movement. There is traffic north and south from O St., from Vine, from Hol-drege, from Randolph and from South: This traffic, however, has adequate streets available to it.

Thirty-third already serves as a north-south street from Capital Parkway all the way north as far as anyone wants to go. From the parkway south, people can travel 27th, or 40th by going very little out of their way. Twenty-seventh, of course, is an arterial that runs the entire length of the city, as is 48th. If these two streets were improved as they should be as major four-lane arterials, there would be no need for 33rd, at all. But the planners and engineers see 33rd as a cheap way out of their traffic movement problems.

The trouble is that it isn't cheap to confiscate park land just because the city already has title to it. Parks are a valuable public asset and meet a great human need. The plan for opening 33rd through Antelope Park should be junked, the sooner the better, and city efforts concentrated on much preferred alternates.

What Changed Ronald Reagan?

WASHINGTON — Confirmed California Republicans have been uncertain as to how far they should go in covering up Ronald Reagan's extreme left record before he became the darling of the extreme right.

Ex-mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, for instance, a candidate against Reagan for governor in the Republican primary last June, made some oblique references to the record but did not follow through. Speaking in northern California June 2, Christopher referred to "Reagan's wide-ranged political swings from the extreme left to the extreme right."

Next day in Bakersfield, Christopher asked the questions: "Did Mr. Reagan ever belong to the Americans for Democratic Action and when? Did he ever belong to the United World Federalists and when? Did he jointly sponsor protests on U.S. atomic policies with the chairman of the communist party in Los Angeles—and how long did this association last?"

Christopher cited Reagan's experience as "a student at Eureka College, Illinois, in leading a student uprising against the rules of his own college, which finally provoked the college president to resign in disgust."

This part of the Reagan record is especially interesting in view of the fact that one of his main attacks against Gov. Pat Brown is for coddling of beatnik student activities at the University of California. Reagan has demanded that Brown clean out the university.

However, Reagan's record as a student beatnik has been dug out of his autobiography, page 26, describing the manner in which he presented a petition to Eureka's board of trustees demanding the president resign. Reagan tells how the trustees and the president came out of their conference with "gloomy Dachshund faces" to face Reagan's committee.

Why did Reagan change so radically? Was it because of convictions? Was it because he grew up? Or was it because of money? Reagan's friends will give you different answers.

But the fact is that in 1954 that Reagan began drawing over $100,000 a year from General Electric as a radio and television commentator. Before that he was an actor making money in "B" pictures when he could get work, or doing left-wing programs for the Hollywood Writers Mobilization (listed as a Communist front) when there was no work.

After he began drawing $100,000 a year plus from GE, Reagan started campaigning against Medicare, playing down the importance of labor unions, and taking on the political coloration of the corporation which at that time had one of the most anti-labor policies in the nation—General Electric.

New York Race Becomes Confusing

NEW YORK — With the polls closing in less than two weeks, New York voters are confronted with some extraordinary departures from political normalcy.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, 1966 version, is running against the Gov. Nelson Rockefeller unpopular in the Republican heartland upstate because he raised taxes, spurned Barry Goldwater, divorced his wife and remarried. He has been embraced by 37 labor unions with a million members and pleads with them to redress the upstate balance because the tax money was for social reform.

They cheer and just might do it, which should be something to see. It is a rather more affirmative approach than the liberal party candidacy of Franklin Roosevelt Jr. which attracts both upstate and city voters.

Democrat Frank O'Connor seemingly a whirlwind when elected city council president last year, is still looking for an issue. He is expecting Sen. Robert Kennedy, who opposed his nomination for governor, to put him over in a whirlwind finish next week.

In this biggest of all nests of rich Democrats, O'Connor pleads poverty. The presence of a Kennedy brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, in the O'Connor campaign has not changed things, as he has not brought money with him.

The big event of the day at every headquarters is the arrival of the next day's dope on the Daily News poll. So far it shows Rockefeller and O'Connor in almost a dead heat, with Roosevelt surprisingly strong. The small differences are debated as hotly as open housing and scarcely more rationally.

The white backlash is another source of confusion. It is present, unless the courts bar it at the last moment, in an immediate and ultra-emotional form—a referendum barring the New York City police department's Complaint Review Board set up by Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Both supporters and opponents of the referendum make it impossible for the candidates to duck the issue. Just to make it harder, the voter who opposes the review board must vote "yes"; its defenders must vote "no."

Such cross currents put a premium on already costly TV time. Rockefeller's are frequent and well-prepared. The fewer O'Connor television spots bear out his complaint that his fellow Democrats are short-changing him.

The New York City newspapers are not running true to form, either. All except the New York Post, to date undeclared, endorse Rockefeller, even the Daily News, which usually scorns liberals. According to one wag at O'Connor headquarters, the widely-circulated tabloid really did it to help the Democrats by making liberals suspicious of Rockefeller.

Eldena Sapp of the Osceola Record proclaims that she is momentarily in a very good mood, with even the weather cooperating. Autumn is her favorite time of year. However, warm as it is, only such things as box elder bugs and red and yellow leaves indicate the true calendar count. The temperature feels more like summer.

"If it weren't October," Mrs. Sapp declares, "I'd have flipped the air-conditioner switch."

There were those who scoffed at many of the government projects of the 1930's, but one that is more valuable today than ever before is the shelterbelts planted around Greeley and elsewhere by CCC boys. Joan Glaser, writing in the Greeley Citizen, comments on what a haven for wildlife they have become in these later years. And their beauty also is a large part of the Midwestern background.

"Northwest of Greeley there are a large number of these shelterbelts and this time of year especially add much to the scene. Who would have thought 30 years ago that the tree planters would so have changed the looks of the Sandhills?"

The Oxford Standard was about to blow a fuse over what has been offered on the electrical market, and the possibilities for the future. With electric toothpicks now marketed, "perhaps electric hairbrushes and combs will soon become available. The Post Office Department is familiar with the brickbat of criticism, and probably quite surprised and gratified at the occasional compliment that comes its way.

Kelth Sanders was explaining in the Creighton News the new ruling that zip codes will be compulsory. It may seem like a nuisance, he agrees, but there are advantages, both from the patron's and the post office's viewpoints. Flaws in the system no doubt will be ironed out as the matter goes along.

There have been two instances, he points out, when incorrectly addressed newspapers have arrived at the proper destination because of the proper zip code. Putting it on a plane where Mr. East, which included a tour of Mount Vernon.

One Wayne citizen wasn't very happy with a postal form he received showing postage due, especially when he had paid the bill and found out that the mail was only a political blurb from one of the major candidates for office. It very definitely decided his vote, the Herald related.

Jack Tarr of the David City Banner-Press must have received the same news release. It was special delivery, and had 10 cents due on it. "Financially speaking, the political campaigners must be tightening their belts."

Signs of our fashion times. Art Riedesel notes that when the Ashland majorities' outfits were new a couple of years ago, the skirts were daintily short.

Hills Of Home

Ansley, Neb.

Recently I had a long ride from Ansley to Valentine and I think now I really understand the setting for such songs as "Bury me not on the lone prairie." As we got into Sandhill country, it was very dry and brown looking and farther apart. We saw the blackened Halsey Forest reserve coming slowly back to normal. There were ranches and large turkey ranches along the way. The biggest item of interest to me was a large drove of sheep grazing leisurely along and the Hereford cattle scattered here and there in the pastures, resting in the sun, with their front legs folded under their bodies.

It was a most enjoyable trip, but the Custer County hills are home to me.

Limited Space

Lincoln, Neb.

Why are certain people blaming the county treasurer for poor service? I think Mr. Berg has given the public wonderful service with the small space available to him. In the last 30 years the county has grown out of proportion to his office space—which has stayed the same for the past 50 or 60 years.

It would have been difficult for any other man to adjust to growing Lincoln with so little to work with. Even his bookkeeping machine has to be in the open office because there is no place else to put it.

Let us give credit where credit is due.

Let's show the world that we are all heart as well as big league and donate that "in the stands extra point or field goal football" to the lucky catcher. The Record

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to express my appreciation for The Star's answer to the question of what Clair Callan had done for Nebraska. I for one am sick to my stomach over the mud-slinging his opposition has resorted to using.

A record of accomplishment in agriculture, soil and water conservation, industrial development, local management and added revenue from housing and other facilities at the Air Base, and a 97% attendance record add up to hours of hard work for our state.

When we have one of the best men possible serving us in Washington, we don't change to a man trying to fool the voters and distort a record of accomplishment for Nebraska.

Old-Time Grocery

Lincoln, Neb.

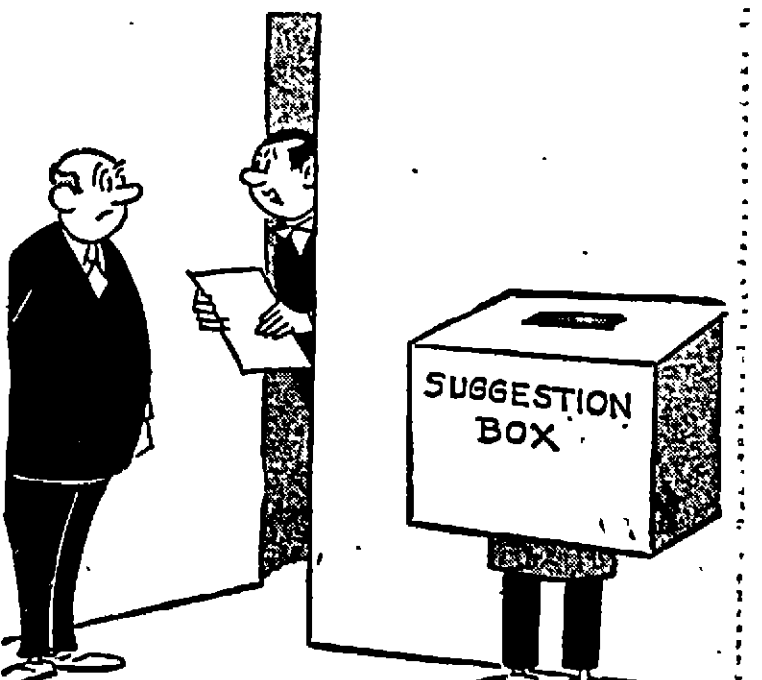

I am very surprised that the ladies who formed the "Lincoln Ladycots" don't know what it took me only three weeks in Lincoln to discover. We are newcomers to Lincoln and have lived here only six weeks.

I shop at a supermarket close to my home. Here are a few of the things I have found there that don't exist in the stores which the ladies are planning to boycott: much lower prices, courteous check-out ladies who do all the work of putting the groceries on the counter so I am free to watch them ring up the prices, helpful people in all departments who seem to sense when a shopper can't find something or needs help of any kind, busy owners who always find time to visit with a customer—all of which creates the atmosphere of the neighborhood grocery where my mother shopped when I was a child.

If this isn't enough, they also give trading stamps, which can be redeemed for merchandise or cash.

Dr. Brothers Gives Gals 'Facts'

... 2,000 NU COEDS HEAR PSYCHOLOGIST'S ADVICE

JOHN DeCAMP
Star Staff Writer

Dr. Joyce Brothers, psychologist and lecturer, told more than 2,000 University of Nebraska coeds all about love and marriage and shocked the potential man-hunters with a lot of other pertinent facts about life.

Some of Dr. Brother's facts on today's marriages: out of a dozen marriages, 4 can be expected to end in divorce. Six become "utilitarian marriages." That is, it becomes more convenient to stay together than to divorce, but the flame of love has been pretty thoroughly doused.

A mere two marriages — only 1 out of 6, make it through the years with as much love at the end of the marriage as there was at the start.

Not Trusted Later

Is it true, Dr. Brothers asked, that the girl "who lets a man go too far before marriage will not be trusted by the man later in life?"

"There is no true answer to this question," Dr. Brothers said, "but the answer you girls wrote down in this test probably tells a lot about you and how you feel about yourself."

A test of college men showed that "most of today's enlightened boys don't hold it against the girl, providing that at the time the boy and girl loved each other," Dr. Brothers said.

In the mind of today's young man, "this is more important than chastity itself," Dr. Brothers said. Dr. Brothers termed this the "new morality" and speculated that this would be the moral code of the future as opposed to "today's double code."

The old theory that opposites attract is true, Dr. Brothers said. This, she said, can be a boon as well as a bane in later marriage though. For the hardest thing for married people to do today is "to forgive your mate for the very things which made you originally choose him," Brothers said.

Some facts which stunned the girls and which as Dr. Brothers explained to the girls, "we keep the information among ourselves."

Men rarely lie, and then only when "pushed" into it. Women, on the other hand, lie frequently. "Lying comes more easily and is actually fun" for women," Dr. Brothers explained.

Proof? Some "90% of all brasieres sold today are padded," Dr. Brothers said.

Men are 50% more proficient at solving complex problems than are women. And the males are also more cheerful chaps than women. Likewise, men are less finicky in their eating habits than the gals and men are less self centered than women.

Coping With Crises

Women, who get unreasonably upset in a small crisis, are supposed to be able to cope with a "really severe crisis" better than males according to Dr. Brothers.

Women talk more than men. And they talk more about men than men do about women.

Husbands are generally "more intelligent than their wives," Dr. Brothers said, "but when there is a mother-in-law problem, it is usually because of the husband's mother—not the wife's."

Dr. Brothers, a regular guest on various national television programs, said that to be successful at catching her man a girl must be "a mind reader." That is, she must be able to detect a male's attitudes from the way he acts.

For Instance

For instance: speedup in heart beat, rapid breathing and other physical signs are indications of a male's emotions.

If the man is acting agitated — strumming his fingers, puffing rapidly on cigarettes, etc. — It probably means he'd like to be away from you (the girl) and he's just too polite to tell you.

Trembling hands often mean the boy is undecided. He's being pulled in two directions, but he at least likes you. This is the time to really work to catch him.

The man who unconsciously forgets things in a girl's apartment is actually paying a compliment to the gal even though he does not realize it. Chances are, if she plays her cards right, a male like this can be captured.

Russian Leaders Announce Plans To Visit France

Moscow (AP)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will pay an official visit to France in the first half of December, the Soviet Government announced Thursday night.

Communist Party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and President Nikolai V. Podgorny will visit France sometime in 1967, the same government announcement said.

President Charles de Gaulle invited the Soviet leaders to his country during a visit here last June.

The visits to France are the first to a major Western nation announced for the Soviet leaders since they took over power from former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in October of 1964. Brezhnev and Podgorny have not left the communist bloc. Kosygin has visited the United Arab Republic and Finland.

Navy Reserve Chief Praises Today's Youth

Rear Adm. D. C. Lyndon, Commander of the Naval Reserve Training Command, told a Navy Day dinner audience that "despite what we read in the papers of the trashy elements who are a disgrace to the youthful age group, the young Navy man of today is better than he ever has been."

Lyndon, who directs the activities of 429 Naval Reserve Training Centers in 49 states and about 80 ships, described the young Navy man as "more intelligent, more energetic, more capable and as highly motivated as any ever in history."

The native Kansan said Navy men are "a sizeable portion of the 328,000 military men committed in Viet Nam" and added that "about 44% of the men in our Navy today are 21 years of age or less."

He said there are 21,000 Navy men on shore in Viet Nam and about 70,000 in the 7th Fleet in the South China Seas.

"Their ability, responsibility and absolute courage in the face of danger is in the highest traditions of our nation," Lyndon said.

Studios Prisoner

Winnipeg, Man. (AP)—By day former lawyer Michael Gingers, 40, goes to the University of Manitoba, carrying on his studies in commerce and business administration. At night he goes back to Stony Mountain Penitentiary, serving out a seven-year sentence imposed in 1965 for fraud and breach of trust involving $121,000. The daytime parole expires next spring when he graduates from college and reverts to prison routine, officials said.

GSA Says No Federal Building Site Selected

By BOB SCHREFF
Star Staff Writer

A spokesman for the General Services Administration (GSA) regional office in Kansas City, Mo., said Thursday no site has been selected yet for the proposed Federal Office - Courthouse Building here.

Kenneth Knight of GSA's regional space management division said his office "is not at liberty to divulge" which downtown location most interests the government.

He said it would be several weeks before a final decision is reached.

A GSA inspection team in Lincoln last month reported finding three possible sites: the existing federal building and Post Office on P between 9th and 10th; near the future county-city building at 10th and J and between the State Capitol and State Historical Society on 15th St.

Knight said several package offers have been forwarded to Washington, D. C., for consideration.

No basis has been found for rumors that the GSA is closing out purchase deals with property owners in the block bounded by 15th and 16th, O and P.

Land transactions in the square block area have occurred in the past few months, but property owners contacted said they have not received firm offers to purchase from GSA officials.

Sold Before Visit

Four lots located on the land in question were sold to a local promotion firm before the GSA inspection team visited Lincoln.

Another tract was exchanged between local interests for undisclosed reasons.

A rumor that the remaining property owners, except for two, had optioned their property was unsubstantiated Thursday.

One of the two remaining owners said they had "sent in the proper papers" to offer the property, "but we haven't heard from them yet."

"We know that they (GSA) have contacted other ownerships in other areas," a Lincoln realtor said.

Invitation Accepted

Paris (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle, who will be 76 on Nov. 22, has accepted in principle an invitation to visit the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal. He told the visiting King Mahendra: "God willing, I will have the honor of visiting your country and it will be a very great pleasure for me."

Portugal has something over nine million people. All of them are amazed that Americans don't seem to like port wine.

Actually, a lot of them don't even know Americans don't drink port. They think this fortified wine from the north is so excellent, so fine, so delectable that all the world is drinking it.

I don't know any American who drinks it. I know some people who pour a cup into cheese to flavor it. But nobody who actually drinks it.

Sometimes I see Englishmen drinking it — there's some tradition about passing it to the left, but I forget why.

Anyway, now is the time to go to the valley of the Douro where the grapes grow. (You can drive across Portugal in a day, the length of it in two.) All the port wine grapes grow in a 10- to 20-mile strip following the Douro River where it comes out of Spain. The area is protected by law — like the French protect the word "cognac" by defining the region it must come from.

It's a pleasant country to drive in. Good roads.

The Portuguese drive with the horn. Blowing traffic out of the way. It's not that blasting they used to do in Mexico City when every horn pistoler simply leaned on the horn from start to finish.

They pass and beep — twice. But every car is fixed with a peculiarly screechy horn. When it sounds in your car suddenly, I tend to go right off the edge of the road.

It's cooler in the north now. Many more blonde people up here. For the Visigoth kings held the country longer.

The south shows the Moorish influence. And some of the southern towns, white-washed until the sun blinds you, narrow alleyway streets, are right out of North Africa.

As soon as you get to Oporto, the finest thing you can do for the Portuguese is go over to the wine institute and get yourself blotto.

It is completely free. They will give you white aperitif ports and medium dry ports.

Purplish after dinner ports and ports to sing the fado by.

"And when do we see the handsome natives jumping on the grapes?" I asked.

The port wine man speaks English. They all speak English in the port trade.

Portugal has strong ties with England. Ever since the Duke of Wellington was fighting Napoleon down here. The voltage is 220 — British. The car license plates are copies of the British.

British tourists are all over the place. (The prices are fantastically low. The British are only allowed $150 to vacation outside England.)

The wine man said: "I am afraid we don't crush grapes under foot any more. It was a colorful custom. But don't you think Americans would be averse to drinking wine crushed by bare feet?"

I said Americans would drink paint thinner if there was nothing else. The problem was that Americans are not much on fortified wines — wines stepped up with brandy.

"If they drink hard liquors, they are apt to take whiskey." The port wine man insisted I try a little of the dry white port.

He said: "It has been proven that port wine is excellent for the digestion. Whiskey is very hard on the stomach. Try this medium dry port if you please."

I tried it. Not bad.

State Must Answer Parker's Petition

A federal judge Thursday ordered the state of Nebraska to show why convicted wife slayer Darrel F. Parker should not get a new trial or be released from a life prison term.

Judge Robert Van Pelt of the U.S. District Court here

Callan: 89th Session Met Responsibility

Rep. Clair Callan said the 89th Congress "met its responsibilities, both at home and abroad."

In a congressional report to his constituents in the First District, Callan outlined major accomplishments of the Congress.

The Democratic congressman said he introduced 31 bills in his first term. Several agricultural bills, including a major amendment to the Food for Freedom Act, were approved.

Seven of the measures have been passed "in whole or substance" and others are being considered in committee, he said.

Callan noted that his 97% voting record was highest among the five members of Nebraska's congressional delegation.

gave the attorney general's office 20 days to present its written answer and legal reply to show his cause order. Van Pelt acted swiftly after Parker, a former Lincoln city forester, filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus—the second such document submitted to the federal court in the past two years.

Parker, 33, a native of Henderson, Iowa, was convicted of the Dec. 14, 1955, strangulation of his wife, Nancy, in the couple's Antelope Park Cottage.

He has steadfastly maintained his innocence, contending violation of his constitutional rights.

Last summer, the State Supreme Court dismissed Parker's petition for relief in Nebraska courts. He submitted that action after Van Pelt rejected an earlier plea on the ground Parker did not exhaust his state remedies. Parker's case is one of Nebraska's most-publicized murder cases.

Mrs. Parker was from Des Moines, Iowa. She met her husband when both attended Iowa State University in Ames.

DEMO CLAIMS DENNEY IS TWO YEARS BEHIND

Democratic County Chairman Norman Krivosha said Thursday Republican congressional nominee Robert Denney is "two years behind the times" in proposing a county industrial agent program.

"This kind of program is underway right now on an experimental basis under the rural areas development program," Krivosha said.

"Legislation that would implement this kind of a program was thoroughly discussed in the last session of Congress, passed by the Senate, approved by the House Agriculture Committee . . . and held over for next year by the House so that necessary technical revisions could be made before the bill was acted upon."

Denney's opponent, Democratic Rep. Clair Callan, is a member of the House Agriculture Committee, Krivosha noted.

Exon Notes Bill Curtis Opposed Aiding Economy

The "new industry effect" of federally-assisted expansion on university campuses will pump some $12 million into the Lincoln economy in the next biennium, Lincoln Democrat James Exon said Thursday.

"It's something for Lincoln businessmen to think about in view of the fact that the growth was set off by a federal program that Carl Curtis voted against," Exon said.

The Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963 provided $2,808,227 for buildings for the University of Nebraska and $416,666 for a new library at Nebraska Wesleyan University, Exon said.

Local agencies provide $2 for every dollar of federal funds, he said, meaning the construction industry will contribute an additional $9.6 million to the Lincoln economy as the new buildings are erected.

Officer Nominated

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson has nominated Lt. Gen. Theodore J. Conway, 7th Army Commander in Europe, to succeed retiring Gen. Paul D. Adams as Commander-in-chief of the U.S. Strike Command at MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, Fla., the White House announced.

Anniversary Marked By Library Fund

Glencoe, Ill. — The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Holland of Glencoe, formerly of Lincoln, Neb., was celebrated here this week with announcement of the Holland Library Fund at the University of Nebraska.

The $2,000 endowed Eugene and Louise Bedwell Holland Library Fund, set up in the University Foundation, will support annual purchases of books in the field of American History, Harry R. Haynie, Foundation president, said.

The donors are the couple's children and their spouses: Dr. and Mrs. Laurence B. Holland of Princeton, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Holland, Jr., of Chicago; and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Alberts of Barrington, Ill.; and the couple's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Beck of Wilmington, Del.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Holland attended the University of Nebraska. He was a member of the class of 1913 and she was graduated in 1915. Mr. Holland formed the Holland Lumber Co. in Lincoln in 1917, developing it into six retail yards in Nebraska and Iowa. He is the retired president of Universal Gypsum and Lime Co., former director of Masonite Corporation, and director of Gulf, Mobile, and Ohio Railroad.

Gen. Taylor Calls Manila Statement Moderate, Feasible

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Gen. Maxwell Taylor, special consultant to President Johnson, Thursday called the statement of the just-concluded Manila conference on the Viet Nam conflict "moderate" and "feasible," but issued a warning about the "pitfalls of negotiations."

Taylor, addressing the opening session of the Nebraska State Education Association District I convention here, declared that he personally considered the outcome of the Manila talks "most successful."

The former ambassador to South Viet Nam told some 4,500 teachers that he thought the participants' recognition of certain needs for the conflict and reconstruction and plan for the end of the war "moderate, reasonable, and feasible—very encouraging."

The Manila statement outlined a phased withdrawal of foreign armed forces from Viet Nam within six months after "we can see the cessation of aggression and infiltration," Taylor said.

However, Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and former Chief of Staff of the Army, warned the District I educators that when dealing with the communists, "do not stop fighting until all hostilities end."

'Never Weaken'
Noting with bitterness the attacks on the U.S. forces during negotiations for peace after the Korean conflict, the general emphasized that the U.S. should "never weaken the pressure when the enemy was Dr. Loren Bonneau, professor of education at the University of Nebraska, who had some strong words for Nebraska teachers on solving salary problems and promoting personal welfare.

TAYLOR . . . warns of 'pitfalls.'

Indicating that Nebraska's tax system works to the disadvantage of educators, Bonneau declared that "the public uses us more as missionaries than professionals."

School board members are interested in keeping taxes down, superintendents are intent on proving their financial wizardry to board members rather than promoting pay raises, and most teachers are women, historically paid less than men, he pointed out. Unless action is taken, Bonneau warned, teachers will "turn to unions."

Moonlighting Hit
Dr. Bonneau criticized teachers' moonlighting and what he called "housewife teachers." Even if instructors were paid another $1,100, most teachers would still hold a part-time job, he said.

Teachers should be able to spend their non-teaching time with professional activities, Bonneau told the District I convention.

The NSEA heard that the association "lacked courage" in not taking a stand in opposition to Amendment 6, providing public school bus transportation to private school students, and then "actively working to defeat it."

By 1985, Lynch told the convention, teachers will become the largest single occupational group in the U.S.

Bids Asked On Road Improvement Projects

By Associated Press

The State Roads Department announced Thursday it will open bids Nov. 17 on an estimated $5.1 million worth of highway improvement projects, including paving of 32.2 miles of Interstate 80 highway between the Sutherland and Paxton interchanges west of North Platte.

Other Interstate work included in the letting are construction of six bridges on Route 680 near Omaha, between the Maple St. interchange and the Chicago and North Western Railway Crossing, and grading and seeding of .2 mile on Route 480 between 23rd and 20th Sts. in Omaha.

The three Interstate projects are expected to cost more than $3 million.

Also placed on the bidding block were contracts for work on 8.6 miles of State Highway 56 between U.S. Highway 281 and the Boone County line, on eight miles of State 2 east of Alliance and on five miles of U.S. 34 between Union and State 50.

The full list of projects, by county, showing mileage involved if any, location and type of work (U.S.-United States, N-Nebraska):

FEDERAL AID INTERSTATE PROJECTS
Douglas: On Rt. 680 between the Maple St. interchange and the Chicago and North Western Railway crossing, near Omaha; six bridges.

Douglas: 2 mile on Rt. 480 between 23rd and 20th Sts. in Omaha; grading and seeding.

Kelth and Lincoln: 13.2 miles on Rt. 80 between the Sutherland and Paxton interchanges; paving.

FEDERAL AID INTERSTATE AND FEDERAL AID URBAN PROJECTS COMBINED
Douglas: On Interstate Rt. 480 in Omaha at the 22nd and Dodge Sts. Interchanges; five bridges.

FEDERAL AID SECONDARY PROJECTS (STATE)
Douglas: On the relocation of N64 between N31 and Interstate 680; one bridge.

Cedar: 4.5 miles on the relocation of N57 between N12 and Laurel; grading, gravel surfacing, culverts and guard rail.

Greeley: 8.6 miles on N56 between US281 and Boone County line; grading, gravel surfacing, culverts, two bridges, guard rail and gravel surfacing for detour.

Scotts Bluff: On highway north of Melbeta; one bridge and guard rail.

FEDERAL AID SECONDARY PROJECTS (COUNTY)

Curtis Criticizes Democratic Monetary Policies

turning to Nebraska full-time on September 22.

How much will he spend?

"All I can get," he replies. The latest published estimate from his finance manager, he notes, was $115,000.

The Curtis organization is geared for the battle. In Omaha alone, 5,000 block captains have been recruited and put to work.

"Too Rosy"

Published polls which show him far ahead are "too rosy," Curtis believes. He says he can't help but remember how favored teams fared in the 1966 football bowl games.

And so Carl Curtis, 61, Minden attorney, a member of the House for eight consecutive terms and a U.S. senator since 1955, is sweeping through a fast-paced schedule which keeps him on his feet nearly all day long.

On the second floor of the Castle Hotel, Curtis met members of Omaha's old (since 1916) Concord Club and listened with them to a luncheon address by his Republican compatriot, Nobby Tlemann.

Together, the two candidates then moved on to Brandeis' big store at 16th and Douglas, where each conveyed his greetings to several hundred ladies deeply involved in the St. Columban Guild's noisy fifth annual card party on the 10th floor.

Curtis visited with fellow elevator riders on the trip down.

Outlines Issues

At an early afternoon coffee reception with 40 ladies at 1561 North 53rd, he had his first opportunity to outline the issues as he sees them.

"The great issue," he said, "is whether you shall vote to further strengthen the Great Society, with all its dangerous trends, or vote for responsible Republicanism."

His contest with Morrison is "not a question of personalities," he suggested. "Great principles are involved in this election."

Zeroing in on his major theme of the day, Curtis assailed Democratic monetary policies: "the highest cost of living in history... the highest interest rate in 40 years... the tightest money market in years... runaway inflation... the dollar at its lowest value in history... the 1960 dollar is now worth 89.6 cents."

The sun shone brightly as Curtis moved on for a handshaking tour of three Omaha automobile agencies.

Greetings All

At McFaydens Ford on South 20th, he said hello to switchboard operators, greeted employees and customers in the parts department, walked through the haze of paint dust in the body shop and poked his head under the hoods of cars to introduce himself to the mechanics.

A drive through rush hour traffic took him to Bellevue where Republicans were gathering for an overflow county fund-raising dinner. Curtis stationed himself at the door and greeted each of them with a handshake.

In the lounge of the Bellevue Club, he joined them to watch the Huntley-Brinkley Report's film coverage of the Curtis-Morrison campaign, and was pleased when it suggested an impending Curtis victory.

National Democratic luminaries have come to Nebraska this year "to tell you how to vote," Curtis told the audience. "Why, it's been the greatest boon to tourism in the history of Nebraska... and they've all traveled first class."

Moral Decline

Now Curtis added to the issue of inflation a "decline in morality," growth of the federal government—and war.

When the Democrats are in control, "we've had war every time," he declared. "Now, I know they don't want it—but they're unable to conduct our affairs to stay out of it."

On the ride to Peony Park in west Omaha, Curtis puffed on a cigar and said he is content to have his record be an issue in the campaign.

In Peony's vast ballroom, before 300 members of the Omaha Homebuilders Association and their guests, he defended it.

"To successfully oppose an unwelcome law is an affirmative accomplishment," he suggested.

"I'm not living in the last century."

Had To Grow

"I am aware our federal government had to grow... but that does not justify turning to the federal government for everything."

Once a federal program is underway, he will support it, Curtis said, because "communities rely on it, and the federal government must meet its responsibilities."

But, he suggested, "we need to use restraint before new programs are started. That's when I ask myself three questions: Is it constitutional? Is it necessary? Can we afford it?"

And so, he noted, "I've been on the losing side often in these struggles over the growth of the federal government."

Curtis, however, has not been on the losing side often at the polls.

Next month, he will be attempting to stretch his winning streak in elections (primary and general) for national office to 22.

Morrison Avoids Duties, Problems, Curtis Says

Sen. Carl Curtis said Thursday that Gov. Frank Morrison "runs away from every problem" and has failed "to execute the duties and perform the obligations of governor."

Curtis said he would not have criticized Morrison's action in regard to the 1965 state income tax law if he had either signed or vetoed the bill.

"I am not attacking his position for or against the income tax," Curtis told a news conference. "I attack his position when he runs and hides."

Curtis said that he would either have signed the bill or vetoed it if he had been governor.

"For several days running now, I have asked the people of Nebraska to look at the governor's record and examine his leadership as governor to judge for themselves how dynamic he really has been," the senator said.

Proposed Law

In 1963, he noted, Morrison proposed a law to establish the Nebraska Industrial Research Institute.

The law was approved by the Legislature, but the governor "was unable to provide the leadership necessary to fund it," Curtis declared.

In 1965, "there was more talk from the governor, but no real leadership or decisive action" provided on the research institute, and the Legislature adjourned again without funding the program.

Curtis said Democratic attacks upon his voting record in the Senate have been filled with "distortions and partial truths."

The senator said he is criticized "because I didn't vote for enough... they criticize me for not voting for every bill that comes up."

Federal Spending

Yet, he said, increasing federal expenditures have been a factor in reducing the value of the 1960 dollar to 89.6 cents.

"How many more six-year periods can there be when the dollar shrinks more than 10 cents?" he asked.

Curtis was presented at the press conference with a "Watchdog of the Treasury" award from the National Associated Businessmen, Inc., for promoting economy in government and voting against inflationary spending programs.

Lincoln City Councilman John Mason, NAB vice president, presented the award.

"Will you be traveling? If so, you will want to know of local news happenings while you are away. The carrier boy saves newspaper copies while you are away and delivers them in handy Vacation Pak bag upon your return at no added cost."

Ted Sorensen Says Education No Longer Forgotten In State

By DAN DICKMEYER
Star Staff Writer

"Education in Nebraska is no longer the forgotten stepchild it was in 1961," Ted Sorensen, former presidential aide and advisor to President John F. Kennedy, said in Lincoln Thursday.

The Nebraska native spoke to a group of educators at the District I Nebraska State Teachers Convention at a dinner and panel discussion eyeing the teacher's role in reforming school systems.

Commenting on a 1961 McCook speech where he advocated improved schools to retain young families in Nebraska, Sorensen said "every theme of that talk has been picked up by both parties" and used as political policy.

Sorensen received sharp criticism for the speech at the time.

"It is no longer forbidden to talk of a broadened tax base or school district reorganization," Sorensen said, adding that Nebraska's educational system has improved. "You must keep pace with new developments in education or be passed by neighboring states," he said.

Sorensen challenged the educators to inform their neighbors and communities of the needs of the educational system of Nebraska.

"We need as public servants in education and government decision makers who are educated, can sense problems, face up to these problems, make solutions, know the constituents and grasp the issues which face the citizen," he said.

He noted Nebraska needed to keep pace with the national trends of new levels of financing and salaries in education.

"We can't replace the lost teacher or the education a child loses in his formative years," Sorensen said.

Chairman of the discussion, Charles Gowens, stated in conclusion that by 1974 the teachers vote might be politically more important than the farmers.

Dr. Woods Tells Teachers: Accept Child's Contributions

"Accept and refine," members of the Association for Childhood Education International were told Thursday at the luncheon meeting of the group held in conjunction with the annual convention of District I of the Nebraska State Teachers Association.

Dr. Margaret Woods of Seattle Pacific College told the teachers it is very important to accept all contributions of children.

"Every child gives the best he possesses with the background and experience he has, and it is up to the teacher to make the change accordingly," Dr. Woods said.

"There is no child on the face of the earth deprived of culture—we just don't accept some," she said.

"If we could tune into the child's channel of broadcasting, we could accomplish much," she said.

"We fail to take the time to live, and living is what children really need if they are going to be prepared for the world."

Dr. Woods emphasized the importance of incorporating imagination and creativity into the classroom and suggested the use of creative writing.

Sen. Warner said that "elected officials should develop a closer relationship with persons in the professional fields." He cited an education bill which met with a tremendous amount of understanding on the floor because of teachers talking with their senators about it beforehand.

Mrs. Jones commented on a certain amount of fear between teachers and school boards which "may operate both ways."

A board member may fear being seen with his child's teacher because of what people may say," she said.

She also said a teacher may sometimes feel that his job may be endangered if he works in the area of school reform.

Sloan urged teachers to get to know their national representative's voting records, to get involved with local politics, to get acquainted with community and state policy makers who deal in the fields of education.

Armed Man Robs Station At Columbus

Columbus (AP)—A filling station attendant was slugged with a shotgun and a bout $250 in cash and $50 in credit cards taken in a robbery at a Frontier Service Station on Highway 30 at the east edge of Columbus Thursday night.

Attendant John Hilger, a 17-year-old Columbus resident, gave this story:

He and Bob Kretz had closed the station and had walked to their car at the rear when a man with a shotgun called to them that "this is a stickup."

Hilger thought the man was kidding and when he said so he was hit. Hilger and Kretz were then forced to crawl under their car while the armed man and a companion completed the robbery.

Omaha School Official Asks 'Imagination'

"There are a lot of ways to bring new meaning to education" but "we can't do it by following traditional paths," said Welcome Bryant, coordinator for compensatory education of Omaha public schools.

Bryant was speaking at a Special Education luncheon Thursday at St. Paul Methodist Church.

Speaking about teaching the culturally-disadvantaged child, Bryant said, "The school has been in many cases a part of the problem, not of the solution."

"We are not doing the job we should do," he said.

"We have to be a bit imaginative if we want to reach them. We're going to have to get away from the traditional patterns."

Bryant charged that educators "look for all kinds of measures to keep from doing the job we should do—teaching boys and girls."

Modern education techniques are "a great deal of form and very little substance," he said.

Lincoln Teacher Receives Award

A Lincoln school teacher, Mrs. Nancy J. Fortney, received a national award for her efforts in the field of economic education at the annual teachers convention in Lincoln Thursday.

The Kazanjian award, which carries a $100 stipend, was presented by Dr. E. S. Wallace, executive director of the Nebraska Council on Economic Education and University of Nebraska faculty member.

The award program is conducted by the national Joint Council on Economic Education in New York City with funds provided by the Calvin K. Kazanjian Economic Foundation, Inc.

Mrs. Fortney, 2443 Sewell, is a ninth grade social studies teacher in Millard Lefler Junior High School. She was selected for the national award on the basis of classroom efforts in economic education last spring.

Here to make every road you drive smoother, quieter, straighter, shorter and, by all means, safer.

Here's the ride that's been ten years in the making! Yes, unlike other cars in its price class (and some costing far more), Chevrolet's famed Full Coil suspension has a decade of engineering development behind it. One short test drive will show you what this means.

The rear suspension has been refined to make your ride even smoother. The body is further isolated from the rear suspension and from the entire chassis itself by a new mounting system with new softer rated body mounts and rubber cushions reducing noise and vibration more than ever. The special cushions act as energy-absorbing units between the body and frame. You'll even find that on our station wagons this new mounting system is further strengthened by two rubber-isolated supporting struts between frame and body. This greatly reduces those jounces and jiggles you've often experienced in other wagons. A refined rear linkage system hushes driveline operation, while a new-type acoustical headliner also helps absorb noise. Anti-dive features in the front suspension, anti-squat ones in the rear keep you level when stopping—or starting.

Steering that's up to 10% easier. Ball-Race steering gear and newly designed steering linkage reduce steering effort, give better control of wheel alignment, even make stopping smoother.

Game Commission Delays Nebraskaland Days Site Selection

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Game Commission Thursday deferred until its November meeting the selection of a Nebraska community to become the permanent site of the commission-sponsored Nebraskaland Days celebration.

Delegations from North Platte, Valentine, Ogallala and Lincoln appeared before the commission in support of their proposals.

McCook submitted its proposal but did not send a representative to the meeting.

The commission asked for proposals from Nebraska cities interested in taking over the sponsorship of Nebraskaland Days as a statewide, annual event. It has been held in Lincoln for the past four years.

Minimum specifications, including financing and management of the celebration and rodeo, were: a rodeo arena with 5,000 seating minimum, exhibition hall, carnival grounds, public campgrounds and rifle-range for fast-draw and muzzle-loader shoots.

Lincoln, through a special Chamber of Commerce committee headed by Walter Nolte, proposed that the Capital City be the site of the Nebraskaland Days celebration in 1967 under local sponsorship with selection of a permanent site deferred until 1968.

"We want Nebraskaland Days very much," he said. "The permanent site should be near the state's population center."

Nolte said preliminary plans for a $750,000 park and recreation area with the required facilities had been developed, but no funding plans have been developed by the organization.

He suggested the event should have one more year's experience before an ambitious plan, as suggested by the commission's specifications, should be undertaken.

The North Platte delegation, headed by Ray Watson, Chamber of Commerce secretary, outlined a $469,000 fa-tility for the event to be constructed just west of Buffalo Bill Cody's famous Scout's Rest Ranch.

Watson said the city would finance $171,000 of the proposed project if the Game Commission would agree to share $398,000 of the cost.

Game Commission Director Mel Steen noted that the commission is proposing that a community take over the event, and no state funds were available for the North Platte proposal.

However, North Platte officials said the city would construct the facility by 1968 if an agreement were reached with the state for its proposed share.

Meanwhile, facilities now being used for the Buffalo Bill Blow-Out Rodeo would be used in 1967 for Nebraskaland Days under the city's proposal.

Both Valentine and Ogallala made proposals on existing facilities with promises of future expansions as needed.

Former State Sen. Don McGinley, an Ogallala rancher, said the city's fairgrounds are adequate for a rodeo and a private corporation with a full-time executive director would be created to manage the event if Ogallala were selected.

He noted the city was the site of the successful 1965 national high school rodeo.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine headed his community's delegation which cited rodeo-experience and a "good western setting for Nebraskaland Days."

Recreation and historical areas plus the support of Chadron and other neighboring towns were noted in the Valentine proposals.

Logan County Files Brief In Boys Ranch Tax Case

Logan County Atty. Robert E. Roeder told the State Supreme Court Thursday only five acres of the Lariat Boys Ranch should be ruled tax-exempt.

He said in a written brief that District Judge Hugh Stuart erred when he held that 200 acres of the 1,000-acre ranch are not taxable.

The school for boys and the Logan County Board of Equalization both appealed the judge's decision.

Reader said such a ruling, that 17 boys need more than 50 acres each for a play area, could "completely destroy" the county's tax base if the Lariat ranch continues to grow in enrollment.

Soviet Bloc Pledges Hanoi $1 Billion

Warsaw, Poland (AP)—The Soviet Union and its allies have reluctantly but resolutely pledged approximately $1 billion in goods and cash to communist North Viet Nam, informed Polish sources said Thursday.

They reported the war chest was collected at the recent Soviet bloc summit conference in Moscow and written pledges have been given to a representative of Ho Chi Minh's Hanoi government. Official confirmation could not be obtained here.

The idea of sending volunteers to North Viet Nam has been abandoned, the sources said because "the Vietnamese don't want a foreign legion . . . European troops would be worthless. They want goods and cash" for munitions, medicine and other supplies.

Moscow's $800 Million

Moscow's pledge was stated as $800 million and the total of the other East European communist contributions as about $200 million.

Asked if this is for an entire year or some other period of time, a Polish source replied, "This is for right now. God knows what will be needed four months from now."

Poland agreed to give $30 million. The pledges of Czechoslovakia, Romania and East Germany were described as higher or in the same range. Contributions of Cuba and Mongolia, non-European nations at the Moscow summit, were thought to be only token amounts.

Economic Drain

"You can imagine what a drain this will be on our economies, but it has to be done," a Polish informant said.

The view expressed here is that the European communist states naturally would prefer to pour such resources into building their own economies but are determined not to let North Viet Nam go down to defeat or let the Chinese Communists seize the initiative.

Polish informants conceded that the Soviet bloc is weary of the Vietnamese war and its growing cost and generally feels it would be desirable to persuade Hanoi to come to the conference table.

There is hope here that massive aid from the Moscow-aligned nations might in time persuade Ho to listen to advice while assuring him that he would not have to negotiate from weakness.

China Indicted For Embassy Aggravation

Moscow (AP)—The Russians protested to Red China Thursday that demonstrations outside their embassy in Peking were "another deliberate step by the Chinese side aimed at the further aggravation of Soviet-Chinese relations."

In a strong note of protest, the foreign ministry said the entrance to the Soviet embassy had been blocked since last Sunday by demonstrators and demanded they be removed.

The Chinese crowds outside "allowed themselves hooligan actions, obscenities, obscene gestures and poses, spitting, etc.," said the note distributed by Tass news agency.

"Matters have reached a point at which some foreign diplomats could not proceed from the Soviet embassy to their residences in cars with diplomatic numbers on Oct. 23 . . .

Shortly after the note was released Chinese students expelled from the Soviet Union left for Peking waving little red books of Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung's quotations and singing the favorite song of China's Red Guards, "The East is Red."

The 41 young Chinese had been studying in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev. Another 24 who have been studying in Siberia will join the train in Irkutsk.

China Indicted Powell Conviction Is Upheld

New York (AP)—A judge Thursday upheld a criminal contempt conviction against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., stemming from his long legal battle over a $164,000 libel judgment.

The criminal contempt case is one of several proceedings growing out of the defamation judgment against the Harlem congressman, won four years ago by a Harlem widow whom he called a "bagwoman" or graft collector.

Justice Matthew M. Levy upheld the verdict of a Manhattan Supreme Court jury finding Powell guilty on five counts of deliberately violating orders to appear for financial examination.

The judge set Nov. 4 for a hearing on the sentence. The day before, Powell is to be given a chance to appear and purge himself of civil contempt—one of three such citations against him—by submitting to the financial examination.

However, one of Powell's attorneys, Henry R. Williams, said he would go before the state court of appeals Tuesday in an effort to stay Thursday's criminal contempt verdict.

In the civil contempt case, the state appellate division Tuesday sentenced Powell to 30 days in jail and fined him $250.

Under the criminal contempt conviction, Powell could get 30 days and a $250 fine on each of the five counts.

why don't you tell the whole story, Governor?

The Charge:

Governor Morrison accused Carl Curtis of being against housing for the elderly.

THE FACTS:

Carl Curtis voted for housing for the elderly in 1957 and for subsequent legislation to implement it.

Carl Curtis voted against a housing bill in 1959 which bill was opposed by President Eisenhower. He voted against it because it authorized additional housing units at a time when there were 115,000 previously authorized units which were not yet completed. This was not a vote against housing for elderly citizens.

THERE ARE no idle moments for Village Fair group

The distaff side of Lincoln's population is busier than the proverbial cranberry merchant these days. The activity, we hasten to add, is not the social variety. As a matter of fact we might say that there is considerable work and very little play involved.

To date we have news of a Candle Festival, a Country Store, a Christmas Fair and many other interesting projects.

Now comes the Village Fair which means many hours of planning for the women of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. The Fair, to be held on Nov. 10, will display a variety of things such as handmade articles, baked goods, extra-special things that suggest the holidays and gift giving.

You ask for it, and the Village Fair will have it.

Doing some finishing touches on some of the Fair

TALK around Town

Another dawn — and more news of the game weekend. This morning we learned of additional Friday arrivals who will be in town for the game and the weekend.

We hear, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reynolds of Brookings, S.D., will be coming Friday and will be the house guests of Mrs. Reynolds' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reynolds.

On Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will pay courtesy to their visitors when they entertain a group of Phi Kappa Psi alumni, and their wives, at a pregame brunch at their home.

From Kansas City on Friday morning will come Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hilgert who will spend the weekend as the guests of Mrs. Hilgert's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cathers, Jr.

Right now we want to mention a current guest — Mrs. Charles Ammon of Scottsdale, Ariz., who has been spending the past 10 days as the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ammon. Mrs. Ammon will leave today for Houston, Tex., where she will spend several days as the guest of her sister before returning to Scottsdale.

The chances are that you don't read the Washington (DC) Post — So, we want to tell you that the newspaper had a story on William DeVries, son of Mrs. Donald DeVries of Lincoln.

Mr. DeVries, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Innocents Society, has been associated with Manpower Inc. in Washington. Recently he received a promotion and now is a director in charge of all government contracts for Manpower.

Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae will be happy to learn that Mrs. Virginia Lee Poteet and her daughter, Mary, have forsaken California for Lincoln. At the moment Mrs. Poteet and her daughter are the guests of Mrs. Poteet's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark, but soon they will be residing in their own home at 2635 Wooddale.

If you've got the lamps, we've got the TEXTURED SHADES

Linens, burlaps, shantung-looks, 'vinyls with burlap or tweedy textures. That's what chic shades are made of these days. They give a brighter, bolder, more important look to even your most unassuming lamp. And Miller's is the place to find them. Dozens of textured hand-sewn shades from Frenchel. And dozens of textured hard shades. Shapely shades too, including important deep cylinders, shallow empires for Bouillotte look, tiny shades for chandeliers. DG National Council Meeting In Nebraska

For the first time in its history the National Council of Delta Gamma sorority is holding its fall meeting in Nebraska and it now is in session in Omaha. The sessions opened on Thursday, Oct. 27, and will continue through Monday.

Yesterday many of Lincoln's Delta Gamma alumnae joined the group in Omaha for luncheon at the Happy Hollow Country Club.

The seven national officers include Mrs. John L. Sullivan of Braintree, Mass., a member of Kappa Chapter, University of Nebraska. Mrs. Sullivan, who is the former Janet Lau, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Lau, serves as national secretary. Other national officers are Mrs. Otto Kloppenburg of San Raphael, Calif., president; Mrs. Gordon N. Gary, San Marino, Calif., first vice president; Mrs. Charles E. Gates, Wheaton, Ill., second vice president; Mrs. John W. Slaughter Jr., Columbus, Miss., third vice president; Mrs. Edwin H. Moorman, Dayton, Ohio, treasurer; and Mrs. Russell Strickland, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., National Panhellenic Conference delegate.

On Monday evening, Oct. 31, the seven members of the Council will be guests of the Delta Gamma active chapter at the University of Nebraska. Beginning at 5 p.m. the national officers will form a receiving line to meet personally each pledge and active.

ABBY: tell her there is talk

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a married man who teaches school. I drive my car every day. A young woman teacher asked me to drive her home after school on the first day, and ever since then she has asked for a ride home every day.

It's not out of my way, and I don't mind so much that she has never offered to put in any gas, but I think it looks bad. You know what people start thinking when they see a man and young woman together all the time.

If I am a little late, she waits for me. If I leave early, she hurries to go with me. How can I get rid of her without insulting her? I'm afraid there has been talk already.

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: I don't agree that because a man gives a young woman a ride every day, people will talk. But if YOU do, then tell the lady that, silly as it is, people are talking, so the two-party car pool will have to be dissolved. I can't guarantee that she won't be "insulted," but your only alternative is to become permanently trapped.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter went away to college and before she left I bought her a beautiful wardrobe. She recently wrote me a letter saying she needs some new clothes because she has been dating the same boy for the last two months and he has seen all her dresses. How should I answer her?

MANKATO MOM

DEAR MON: Tell her to get another boy friend and start over.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a rest home where about 75 per cent of the patients are senile. They tell their families that we don't feed them, or bathe them, and that we steal from them. Abby, some folks actually believe these stories. Don't they realize that these old folks aren't mentally all there at times?

Five minutes after they have cursed us and have even tried to strike us, they are hugging and kissing us, having forgotten all they've said and done. Please print this so the families of these poor old souls will realize that if we didn't love and understand them we wouldn't be working here.

"UNDERSTANDS"

DEAR UNDERSTANDS: Orchids to you, and to others who continue to work in places where this type of understanding is so desperately needed. I agree, the only way to handle those who are not responsible for their actions, be they senile or mentally ill, is to love them, love them, love them.

BRIDGE

a bidding quiz

B. Jay Becker

QUIZ

You have the following hand, neither side vulnerable:

♠874 ♥5 ♦Q83 ♣AK9762

1. Your partner bids One Notrump and your right-hand opponent bids Two Hearts. What would you bid now?

2. Your partner bids One Spade to which you respond Two Clubs. Your partner then bids Two Spades. What would you bid now?

3. Your right-hand opponent bids Three Hearts. After two passes, your partner doubles. What would you bid now?

4. Your partner bids One Spade to which you respond Two Clubs. Your partner then bids Two Notrump. What would you bid now?

1. Three notrump. You can't be sure that this is the best final contract, but the odds favor three notrump. Most players would treat three clubs over two hearts as a limit bid and not forcing, and it would therefore be unwise to run the risk of partner's passing opposite a hand likely to produce three notrump.

Partner is almost certain to have at least one heart stopper, and once this is granted, the best chance of game lies in notrump. Five clubs could be better than three notrump, but there is no practical way of reaching that contract without

DEAR ABBY: That young working wife who didn't have time to call her mother, because her mother kept her on the phone for at least 20 minutes, sure burned me up. She should be in my shoes. My mother has been dead for 18 years, and if I only could, I'd call her every day and twice on Sundays no matter how busy I was. Sincerely, jeopardizing the notrump game.

CYNTHIA G.

2. Four spades. You have only 9 points in high cards, but game is nevertheless probable in the light of partner's rebid in spades (showing at least five spades) and the value of your singleton heart. To bid only three spades in the hope that partner will go on is too pessimistic a view to take. You shouldn't expect partner to lose four tricks.

3. Five clubs. You can't afford to bid only four clubs because you would do that with a much weaker hand. The best way of showing your values is by jumping to five clubs, which just about represents your hand.

If partner passes, you will probably make five clubs; if he raises to six, you will probably make that also.

The trap to avoid is four clubs. This bid would not be doing your hand justice.

4. Three spades. You have the high-card values for a raise to three notrump, but you have the wrong distribution for this kind of bid. If partner has a five-card spade suit, the hand will probably play better at spades, but if he has only four spades, the best contract is likely to be notrump.

The three spade bid (forcing) asks partner to choose between spades and notrump, depending on the length of his spades. The final decision belongs to him.

Bridal Attendants Revealed

EASTBOROUGH

Ghosts, goblins, Batman and even a fairy or two will celebrate All Hallow's Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stephenson Friday afternoon. Young Miss Lori Stephenson, who is six years old will be hostess to seven of her kindergarten friends.

The party will include dunking for apples, a scavenger hunt, Halloween games and finally a witch's supper. Goblins invited include Pam, John and Terry Kepke; Dick Davis, Deana Howell, Doug Welch and Terri Parrish.

BRIDE at evening wedding

The candlelight chancel of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church was decorated with coral-toned chrysanthemums on Thursday evening, Oct. 27, for the wedding of Miss Ann Reifschneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Reifschneider, and Philip E. Kaldahl, son of the Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Kaldahl. The ceremony was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Kaldahl, father of the bridegroom, and Dr. Larry Lusk, organist, played the wedding music.

Floor-length, Empire frocks of worsted silk in coral were worn by Miss Mary Reifschneider, who was her sister's maid of honor; Mrs. Kenneth Stanley, the bridesmaid; and the bridesmaid, Miss Janice Kaldahl, Omaha, each carried a bouquet of croton leaves and wheat centered with a single, large bronze-toned chrysanthemum.

Dr. Paul Kaldahl of Oklahoma City, served as best man, and seating the guests were Donald Hansen, Lawrence Morey, Richard Austin and Lloyd Bolesen, all of Bellevue.

Silk brocade in antique white fashioned the bride's period gown. A crescent neckline contoured the long-sleeved bodice, and below the high-rising waist, the slender lines of the skirt were emphasized by an overskirt of the brocade which was pleated into back fullness and continued into an aisle-wide train. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was held by a pillbox cap of brocade, and she carried a cascade of sweetheart roses in the coral shade.

The couple will reside in Bellevue. The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and Mr. Kaldahl, who is a graduate of Dana College, Blair, and received his Masters Degree from Omaha University, has taken graduate study at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Attended Institute

Mrs. Leonard E. Hoover has been in Chicago this week as a representative of the Lincoln YWCA, attending a national institute for volunteers and staff members serving as YW recruiters.

Bubble, bubble. Toll and trouble. Almost 1,425 elementary children at Meadow Lane School will costume themselves into huns, mommies and daddies, clowns and cowboys for the school's annual Halloween parade Monday.

The children, grades kindergarten to sixth, will be celebrating the holiday one day late this year because of teacher's convention yesterday and today. All parents, grandparents and brothers and sisters are invited to watch the march through the school halls. Children at the two annexes on Elizabeth St. and on Skyway are planning to parade around the school-house.

The afternoon finale will be individual room parties.

The grown-up members of suburbia seem more concerned with touchdowns than trick-or-treat this weekend. Entertaining guests for the Nebraska-Missouri football game Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Neal who will have as their guests Mr. Neal's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neal of Kansas City, Kan.

Don't worry that Mr. and Mrs. Neal might be harboring two Missouri fans—both visitors are faithful Nebraska alumni.

While in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Neal also will be the houseguests of Mr. Neal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hegstrom.

Sunday will find the entire Neal family motoring to Omaha for more football. Thirteen-year-old Dick Neal will be playing with his Executive Club team members against the South Omaha Knights in the Midget football league.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kleinkauf greeted the pheasant hunting season bright and early last Saturday at Kearney. Accompanying the Kleinkaufs on the outing were Mr. Kleinkauf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kleinkauf, and Mr. and Mrs. George Beard, all of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martin of Kansas City, Kan.

We hear the ladies didn't bring home any birds, but we guarantee they enjoyed the cooking and eating.

Traveling to Crete for dinner on Saturday afternoon will be Raymond Degenhardt and the seven Degenhardt youngsters. The Lincoln family will be the houseguests of Mr. Degenhardt's mother, Mrs. Therese Degenhardt.

But back to Halloween plans—Miss Jerri Callies, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Callies, will hostess a holiday celebration for 10 feminine friends this evening. The hostess, costumed as a black cat, so we hear, has planned apple cider and pumpkin cookies for refreshment as well as the usual Halloween candy.

Showers

A November wedding date has been chosen by Miss Sheila Murphy, who will become the bride of Orvis F. Wall on Sunday, Nov. 13.

The future bride will be the guest of honor next Thursday when Miss Caroline Wagner and Miss Joan Easley will be hostesses at a bridal shower to be held at the home of Miss Easley.

A miscellaneous shower was presented to Miss Murphy on Sunday, Oct. 16, at a courtesy for which Mrs. Dewey Marx was hostess to 12 guests at her home.

Also entertaining recently for the soon-to-be bride was Mrs. David Heffebower who was hostess at a bridal shower at her home.

The bride-elect, has named Mrs. William Maly as her matron of honor and only attendant for the wedding, which will take place at 2:30 o'clock, at the Unitarian Church.

Serving Mr. Wall as best man will be Paul Ruhrdanz of Gary, Ind.

APPLES and spice for country store

The aroma of juicy red apples, spice cake and homemade bread and the gleam of glass apothecary jars filled with old-fashioned hard candies will help transform the Lincoln General Hospital Nurses Home into a veritable Country Store on Tuesday, Nov. 15, when the members of the Lancaster County Medical Auxiliary will entertain at a benefit bridge party.

For the members and their guests, who will meet for bridge at 1 o'clock, the Country Store will offer a variety of merchandise from mince pies to relishes — as well as handmade articles. In charge of arrangements for the event, which will benefit the auxiliary's philanthropic fund devoted to medical scholarships and

Teachers Sorority

A guest at the recent meeting of Beta Conclave, Kappa Kappa Iota teachers sorority, held at the home of Mrs. Maude Bean, was Miss May Stewart, state president of the organization. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Olive East and Mrs. Ann Wilson.

The Great Seal of the United States is placed on about 3,000 formal documents annually.

World War II submarines were, in effect, surface ships capable of intermittent submergence. They could attain a speed of 20 knots at this speed. The subs could go no farther or faster underwater because they were driven by diesel engines that had to be recharged on the surface.

The Spanish Armada consisted of 132 ships, 33,000 soldiers and crews.

Permafrost or permanently frozen ground, underlies about 20% of the entire land surface of the world.

One letter simply stands for another in this example. A is used for the three I's, X for the two O's, etc. So letters, acronyms, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

—CARDINALS INVADE— Wesleyan QBs Get 2nd Test

Nebraska Wesleyan coach Ray Westover switched from DC to AC last week and, although the effect was not electrifying, it did give the Plainsmen the spark they needed to down Missouri Valley, 17-7.

Instead of sticking to one quarterback, Westover alternated junior John Westland and freshman Tom Brown on each play. This "alternating current" type football gets its second test Friday night when the Plainsmen entertain the speedy William Jewell Cardinals.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. for the NWU Homecoming contest which also closes out the home season.

"Westland has more experience," Westover points out, "but Brown is a better passer."

Brown, 6-3, from Arlington, had seen limited action until last week when he tossed a 61-yard scoring "bomb" to end Dale Pelz. Earlier in the season against Huron, he flipped a 63-yard scoring aerial.

"Brown is well poised for a freshman and there's no reason not to use him," Westover added.

William Jewell had its homecoming spoiled, 27-21.

Clay Clowns Through Jones Exhibition Bout

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Cassius Clay danced his way through an exhibition bout Thursday night with Doug Jones, then apologized later to the crowd.

"I didn't want it to end too soon," he quipped. "Some people think he beat me once but I didn't want to show him up again."

Jones, the 10th-ranking heavyweight, was no match for the champion, who pounded him at will and even wrapped his arms around Jones' head and let him pound away.

Harriers Ready For Stretch Run

Nebraska high school distance runners cover on five sites Saturday to bid for spots in the Nov. 12 state cross country race.

Saturday's district eliminations to trim the field are scheduled at Lincoln, Omaha, Kearney, Wayne and Alliance.

Many of last year's top runners are returning and there are three former state champions in the district lineup.

Mark Wilson of Omaha Central, the Class A champ a year ago, returns along with Class C champion Cliff Colglazier of Grant. Wilson will be running at Omaha and Colglazier at Alliance Saturday.

Another former state titleholder bidding for a second championship is Sterling's Jack Weyers, the Class C champion two years ago.

He'll be competing in Lincoln in what stacks up as the toughest Class C district in the state because of the presence of Hebron. Led by Tracy Long and Larry Kassebaum, who finished third and fourth in the Class B race a year ago, the Bears are considered the favorites for the state title.

Jim Sommers, director of the Lincoln district, indicates that the Class C competition will begin at Pioneer's Park at 9:30 a.m., followed by Class B at 10 and Class A at 10:30.

Australia Leads Eisenhower Golf

Mexico City (AP)—Kevin Hartley, 32-year-old Melbourne engineer, fired a four-under-par 68 Thursday and led Australia to a six-stroke lead over South Africa in the first round of the Eisenhower Trophy Golf Championship.

The Australians wound up with a score of 214 and South Africa's Bobby Cole had to sink a 40-foot-putt on the final green to give his team second place at 220.

White Bowls City's First 700 This Fall

Mike White, 20, of 1040 N 47, recorded Lincoln's first 700 bowling series of the fall season at Hollywood Thursday night with a 227-244-246 for a 717 for Shurtleff & Schorr Insurance Company's team in the Cosmopolitan League.

White, just two weeks returned from a stint in the Marine Corps, highlighted his set with seven straight strikes in the final game. A 196 average bowler, he now has five 700's in his career, the highest a 746.

Game Commission Sets 1967 Fishing Regulations

... REJECTS SIZE LIMIT

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer
The Nebraska Game Commission adopted 1967 fishing regulations after rejecting a proposal for a state-wide size limit of 24 inches on Northern Pike.

Commission experts said no size limit is needed in Western Nebraska where the species reproduces readily.

Northern Pike, which is being introduced in lakes and streams in Eastern Nebraska on an experimental basis, are protected by a 24-inch limit.

In other action, the commission by a 3-2 vote modified its regulations to prohibit the taking of bullfrogs by firearms or bow and arrow.

Hendricks Sets Cross-Country Mark At Peru

Peru — Peru State's Tim Hendricks broke his third Peru State record as he led his mates to easy double dual cross country victories over John F. Kennedy College and Tarkio (Mo.) College.

Peru defeated JFK 15-44 and Tarkio 15-50. JFK edged Tarkio 24-31 in their third of the three duals.

Hendricks led Peru with a time of 20:13.8 to set new Peru school and course records. Louis Fritz had set the old standard of 20:17 on the same four-mile course a year ago.

Bob Powell, Boyd Start For Mizzou

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Fullback Barry Lischner and tackle Bill Powell, who have been out with knee injuries, are on the travel roster for Missouri's football meeting with Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday.

Coach Dan Devine said neither will start. Bob Powell will open at fullback and Roger Boyd will start at defensive left tackle.

Defensive end Russell Washington is out of the game also with a knee injury.

Colorado Tackle, Fullback To Miss Oklahoma Game

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Colorado lost starting tackle Bill Csikos for Saturday's Oklahoma game as the Buffaloes wound up preparations Thursday.

Csikos has been unable to practice this week after suffering a deep bruise in his lower back last Saturday and is definitely out of the game as is fullback Rich Odell who is still unable to run on a sprained left knee.

The Buffs received faint encouragement at quarterback as Dan Kelly was able to handle a snap from center in his first practice appearance this week. He sprained his right wrist in the Nebraska game last week.

Sighting-In Day Set At Ikes' Range Sunday

The Lincoln Izaak Walton League, located at 5100 North 48th, will hold a sighting-in day for all hunters of the area Sunday.

The club range will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

O-State Gridders 'Most Aggressive'

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State wound up preparations Thursday for Saturday's game at Oklahoma State with a light workout and a warning from coach Clay Stapleton.

Calling the Cowboys a tough football team, Stapleton told his players, "This is probably one of the most aggressive football teams we will meet all season."

The Cyclones ran through every play they plan to use in the Big Eight game, then wound up with a 15-minute kicking drill.

To Be Held In Omaha

Omaha (UPI) — The 15th Midwest Handball Tournament will be at the Downtown YMCA here Nov. 18-20.

The tournament attracts entries from Nebraska, Colorado, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, Illinois and South Dakota each year.

OU Coach Fears Buff's Running

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie said Thursday if his football team is going to stop Colorado Saturday it is going to have to stop the Buffaloes' running attack.

"And we are going to have to be able to run," the coach said after putting his squad through one hour and 45 minutes of drill in sweat clothes.

The Big Eight teams play at Boulder.

Mackenzie said tailback Ron Shotts and defensive center Granville Liggins will not play because of injuries. He named Alan Henderson, defensive linebacker, and Mark Cosmos, offensive guard, as co-captains for the game.

System Of County Industrial Agents Proposed

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Republican congressional nominee Robert Denney Thursday proposed federal legislation to establish a system of county industrial agents patterned after the county agricultural extension agent program.

If elected, the First District candidate said he would introduce such a bill in the House.

"The county industrial agent would devote his efforts to creating new economic opportunities for residents" of small towns and those who live near them, Denney told a news conference.

No more than 50% of the cost of the program would be funded by the federal government, Denney said, with state and counties providing the remaining financing.

The law would be permissive, he said.

"States could pass laws permitting a single county, or combinations of counties, to join," he noted. "The people on the county level would decide whether or not they wished to participate."

Denney said the new program could teach alternative skills to small town and rural residents, create new economic opportunities, halt or slow the emigration from the farm, develop industrial uses for agricultural by-products and new uses for the products themselves.

The program would "strengthen the rural economy," he said, and it could serve as an alternative to present federal anti-poverty programs, like the Job Corps.

"It would build up the entire economy of the state," he said.

Denney said he favors a long-range plan for consolidation of Nebraska's institutions of higher education into a system wherein undergraduate education would be provided at state colleges and junior colleges, while the University of Nebraska would become a graduate and professional school.

In that event, the county industrial agent program could be administered through local colleges, he said.

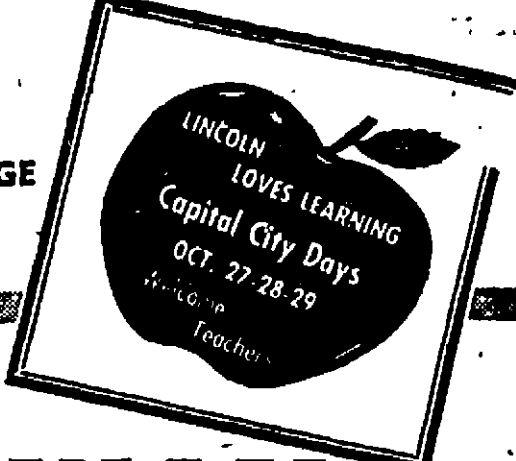

Denney said he is "narrowing the gap" in his contest with Democratic Rep. Clair Callan, and believes he is "either even or slightly ahead" at this time.

The latest poll which he has seen shows him with 41% of the vote, Denney said, compared with about 46% for Callan.

AN ORDINANCE NO. 9112 establishing the official grades of certain streets in Holden's Addition, an addition in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, with reference to a datum plane herein described, and accepting and approving the plat of Holden's Addition, an addition in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, filed in the office of the Planning Department of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, upon certain conditions herein specified and providing for bonds conditioned upon the strict compliance with such conditions.

WHEREAS, Gurney B. Holden and Mabel A. Holden, husband and wife, and Gerald L. Schleich and Louise D. Schleich, husband and wife, owners of Lot "B," Lemmon's Addition, except the West 115 feet thereof, and except the South 44 feet of the East 120 feet thereof, all in the Southwest Quarter of Section 15, Township 10 North, Range 7 East of the 6th P.M., Lancaster County, Nebraska, having platted said real estate under the designations of Holden's Addition, and having filed said plat in the office of the Planning Department of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, with a request for approval and acceptance thereof in the manner and form to be by ordinance required, and

WHEREAS, it is for the convenience of the inhabitants of said City of Lincoln, Nebraska, and for the public that said plat be approved and accepted as filed.

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it Ordained by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That the grades of certain streets in Holden's Addition, an addition in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, be and they are hereby established with reference to a datum plane, which is located as follows: Bench mark cut in water table at the northeast corner of the City Hall building is 79.74 feet above said datum plane.

The grades hereby established shall be uniform straight lines between adjacent points hereinafter specified in said streets and between the grade points heretofore established by ordinance in adjacent streets.

Section 2. Grade at a point in Francis Street 263 feet East of the East line of 71st Street; North side 158.50; South side 158.0; provided, however, that the grades established in this section shall be the points of intersection of the tangents to vertical curves 100 feet long.

Section 3. Grade at a point in Francis Street at the terminus of the Circle: 159.50.

Section 4. That the plat of Holden's Addition filed in the office of the Planning Department of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, by Gurney B. Holden and Mabel A. Holden, husband and wife, and Gerald L. Schleich and Louise D. Schleich, husband and wife, as owners be and they are hereby given the right to plat said Holden's Addition as an addition in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, in accordance therewith. Such acceptance and approval are conditioned upon the following conditions:

First: That the owners above set forth shall, at their own cost and expense, construct sidewalks in the sidewalk space along the West side of 73rd Street within the limits of this plat, and in the public right-of-way of the cul-de-sac, in accordance with the ordinances of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, relating to sidewalks. The construction of said sidewalks shall be completed not later than November 21, 1970.

Second: That the owners above set forth shall, at their own cost and expense, pay for all labor, material, engineering and inspection costs in connection with the construction of a storm sewer system along the West property line of Lot 12 of this plat from Francis Street to an outlet at the Southernly limits of this plat, in conformance with the alignment, grade and cross section as determined by the City, together with all other expense in connection therewith. Said storm sewer shall be constructed under the supervision of the City of Lincoln and title thereto shall be vested in the City of Lincoln. The construction of said storm sewer shall be completed not later than November 21, 1968.

Third: That the owners above set forth shall, at their own cost and expense, pay for all labor, material, engineering and inspection costs in connection with the construction of a system of ornamental street lights, together with all other expense in connection therewith. Said system of ornamental street lights shall be constructed to meet the minimum requirements of the City of Lincoln and under the supervision of the City of Lincoln, and title thereto shall be vested in the City of Lincoln. The construction of said system of ornamental street lights shall be completed not later than November 21, 1968.

Fourth: That the owners above set forth shall, at their own cost and expense, move and relocate the structures presently located on Lots 7, 11 and 12 and within the cul-de-sac right-of-way, so as to comply with the City's zoning regulations, not later than November 21, 1967.

Fifth: That the owners above fill said conditions, the cost thereof to be paid by the surety on said bond. Such work shall be performed in the manner set forth in Title 26 of the Lincoln Municipal Code, known as the Land Subdivision Ordinance, as now existing or as may hereafter be amended.

Section 6. Immediately upon the taking effect of this ordinance, the owners shall file a certified copy of this ordinance in the office of the Register of Deeds of Lancaster County, Nebraska.

Take it for a test drive. See if you pass.

The real test in a Volkswagen is to see if you know what driving really is. If you think you're driving in other cars, then what you do in a Volkswagen is something else. Most cars give you all the lively moving sensation of sitting on your living room couch. But the VW isn't sprung like other cars. Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind they have in racers) gives you the feel of the road. You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on. And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.) When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?) We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily. But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one. So take the test. Maybe you can tell us.

Ford Profits Down Too

Detroit (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Thursday became the third member of the automotive big three to announce that its profits declined in the third quarter of this year in comparison with those of a year ago.

Ford Chairman Henry Ford II said the company's net income for the first nine months of this year was $492.9 million, the second highest in Ford history.

The record of $540.2 million was set in the opening nine months of last year.

Lowest Since '60

Ford's third quarter net income of $55.8 million was the lowest third quarter since 1960 when it was $51.4 million. A year ago, Ford made $102.1 million in the third quarter.

On Oct. 12, Ford declared a regular quarterly dividend of 60 cents.

Chrysler Corp. announced Thursday that its profits dropped, both for the past three months and the year to date, below 1965 levels.

But directors of Chrysler, third largest auto maker in the country, declared the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share.

Earnings Down

Chrysler said third-quarter earnings were $6.5 million, or 14 cents a share, down from $18 million, or 40 cents a share, for the same three months of 1965.

For the year to date, net profits were $123.4 million, or $2.72 a share, compared with $136.4 million, or $3.24 a share, for the first nine months of 1965.

Chrysler's report came two days after General Motors, the nation's largest auto maker, announced its third-quarter earnings had dropped to $99.5 million, or 34 cents a share, from $263.8 million, or 91 cents a share, in 1965.

Colombian City Burns

Bogota, Colombia (AP)—The government announced Thursday that the city of Quibdo in northwest Colombia has been destroyed by one of the worst fires in this nation's history.

Quibdo, a city of 40,000, is located about 200 miles northwest of this capital.

The government estimated that 20,000 persons suffered damage and calculated the losses could reach $9 million.

The fire in Quibdo broke out Wednesday night when a gasoline tank exploded and the flames spread to hundreds of wooden houses nearby.

Body Identified As Frank Reyes

Broken Bow (AP)—Sheriff Glen Fox said a man whose body was found hanging from a boxcar ladder has been identified as Frank Wilford Reyes, 35, of Oklahoma City, Okla.

There was no explanation of what he was doing riding the Burlington Railroad freight which passed through here Saturday. The sheriff said Reyes had been issued a pass on the train.

He was identified through fingerprints.

Ted Sorensen To Speak At Wayne

Wayne (UPI)—Theodore Sorensen, special counsel to the late President Kennedy and brother of Nebraska's Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Phil Sorensen, will speak at Wayne State College Monday morning.

He is scheduled for 11 a.m. in Ramsey Theater of the Peterson Fine Arts Center, following an informal reception in the center.

Dr. David Powell, chairman of the college's social sciences division, said Sorensen accepted the invitation Wednesday to speak on the election institute series, a continuing project of the division.

Food Price Drop Predicted

Washington (UPI)—An Agriculture Department economist said Thursday food prices probably would drop slightly during the remainder of the year, but still average five per cent above 1965.

The economist, Stephen J. Hiemstra, predicted that the usual year-end decline from August levels — possibly the year's highest — could be "in the range of one per cent."

The housewives' price rebellion is unlikely to have any "significant" effect on national retail food prices, said Hiemstra, who heads the food consumption section of the department's economic research service.

Hiemstra's forecast revised an August projection by the Agriculture Department that 1966 prices would be 4 per cent above their 1965 equivalents.

In an interview with UPI, Hiemstra explained that he based his reasoning entirely on a current downturn in wholesale prices, a normal seasonal phenomenon during the third and fourth quarters of this year.

In a related development, the Western States Meat Packers Association claimed that a current retail food price really were not as high as they appeared.

L. Blaine Liljenquist, association president, issued a statement which said that food was being supplied at a "remarkably low cost" because personal income actually was rising faster than food prices.

Lynda Bird III, Will Resume Job

Washington (UPI)—Lynda Bird Johnson is recuperating at the White House from a virus throat infection she contracted in New York City last week while starting her apprenticeship as a writer for McCall's magazine.

The President's 22-year-old daughter has been trying to do some writing but is "prettily lonesome," a White House spokesman said. She plans to return to New York next week.

Local Fire Units
Stop Grass Fire
On Right-Of-Way

Lincoln Fire Department units battled for about an hour early Thursday afternoon to bring a raging grass fire under control.

The fire, which spread along the railroad right-of-way from south of the fairgrounds as far as 27th street, was apparently the result of a "hot box" on a passing train.

The wind-swept flames threatened to break away just east of 17th street, but firemen working west on 27th managed to bring the blaze under control.

Fire Department officials said that the only possible damage caused by the fire was to wiring stretched across the right-of-way.

Tight Belt Continues

State Federal Road Aid Being Held Up

A State Roads Department official reported Thursday $2.5 million in Nebraska assigned federal-aid highway funds are being held up by the government because of project technicalities.

However, fiscal chief George Welty added that he expects part of the money to be released early next month.

"The U.S. Bureau of Roads has held up several active projects due to technicalities.

When a situation like this develops, we can only wait for the money," he said.

Merrill Nelson, assistant engineer for the bureau's Nebraska division, confirmed the money was frozen in Washington.

"I guess you could call it mostly a matter of red tape," he said. "It doesn't involve any discrepancies in the projects or anything like that."

Several contractors have complained that they are not being paid for work completed. Welty urged them to be patient.

"While this problem pops up periodically, it is true that it has been a couple of years since this much money was held up," Welty explained.

"We have quite a few projects that are dependent on federal funds so I can understand the concern."

Nelson said other states are in similar situations. He said he anticipates the money will be released before too long.

"I can't say just when because I don't know that. Our fiscal people could clarify it, though," the government official said.

Nebraska officials said they do not expect the frozen funds to delay road-building progress. They said most contractors understand the problem and are willing to wait on their money.

WOULDN'T HIKE TAXES

Jailer Grover Atkins Thursday locks up Pike County, Ky., Magistrate Darwin Newsome, left, Foster Bentley, Burtage Prater and Taylor Justice. They were jailed Tuesday for refusing to approve the county school budget, as required by law. The budget, they say, would actually raise individual property taxes 20%. Justice said they will stay behind bars. "We don't believe in higher taxes."

Callan Announces 19 Communities To Get Door-To-Door Daily Delivery

More than 11,000 families in 19 Nebraska communities will begin receiving door-to-door mail delivery for the first time Nov. 1, Rep. Clair Callan, D-Nebr., reported Thursday.

Involved principally are families in areas surrounding cities or in new residential developments, who presently receive only curbside delivery of mail.

Callan said the new Post Office Department action will affect 5,085 families in the Omaha community, 3,115 in Lincoln, 222 in West Point, 344 in Fremont, 63 in Hastings, 217 in McCook, 142 in Papillion, 49 in Grand Island, 464 in Bellevue, 128 in Lexington, 509 in Beatrice, 73 in Columbus, 8 in Blair, 63 in Crete, 19 in Falls City, 391 in Norfolk, 69 in North Platte, 309 in Seward and 45 in Wahoo.

Association Elects Martin President

Omaha (UPI) Lincoln businessman and former mayor Bennett S. Martin Thursday was elected president of the Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry at the group's annual meeting here.

Other new officers include district vice presidents: Robert Daugherty of Valley; W. W. Cook Sr. of Beatrice; William R. Simpson of Columbus; F. Curry of Kearney; Charles E. Blair of Hastings; and Verne E. Hix of Scottsbluff.

Earl T. Luff of Lincoln was named treasurer. Glenn J. McEniry of Lincoln will continue as executive vice president and secretary.

Directors appointed for one-year terms by Martin are: Robert A. Dobson, Everett M. Hunt and Harold F. Hoppe, all of Lincoln, and Stuart C. Sherwood of Omaha and Alan Williams of Scottsbluff.

The association reviewed community and industrial development programs at its meeting. Members also discussed the 1967 centennial effort.

Long-Range View

Washington (AP)—Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach urged American foreign service officers to devote more time to long-range objectives than to what he called "short-range improvisation."

Morrison Hits Curtis Record Again

Gov. Frank Morrison Tuesday again hit at Sen. Carl Curtis' record in Congress and charged his opponent doesn't know or understand Nebraska's needs in education and research.

Morrison said Curtis has not voted for the federal programs that Nebraska educational institutions need to make them leading research centers.

He cited the 1963 Higher Education Facilities Act and the 1957 Teacher Professional Facilities Act as two which have helped, but would not have had Curtis had his voting preference.

"He (Curtis) voted against the overwhelming majority of his own party," the Democratic candidate for Curtis' seat added.

If elected to the U.S. Senate, Morrison said he would propose that the deactivated Hallam nuclear energy plant near Lincoln be made a part of the research facilities of the University of Nebraska.

He added that he would consult with industrialists and the Johnson Administration "to improve the posture and contributions of Nebraska to the field of science."

"There's no reason that Nebraska shouldn't be a leader," he said. "By the turn of the century, one-half of the people in this nation will be employed in jobs and commodities that today don't even exist."

Dominate Grain Futures Market

Chicago (U) — Bearish factors dominated the grain futures market again Thursday and all commodities drifted further into weakness. Corn, the only gainer of consequence Wednesday, came under moderate pressure of profit cashing and hedge selling and slipped

The losses left very little

At the close, wheat was 41-1/2 cents a bushel, down from 41-1/4 cents a bushel at the start. December 11, 1994 - 11st corn

At the close, wheat was 4 1/4-cents a bushel lower, December $1.69 1/4; corn 1 1/2-cents lower, December $1.39 1/4; oats 1/2-cent lower, December 73 1/2-cents; rye 2 1/2-cents higher, December $1.21 1/2; soybeans 1 to 2 1/2, lower, November $2.90 1/4.

Hruska Attacks Gov. Morrison As 'Do-Nothing'

South Sioux City — Sen. Charles Hruska said Thursday night that Governor Morrisson's "uninspired record of indecision and lack of leadership" contrasts sharply with the record of achievement and accomplishment compiled by Sen. Carl Curtis.

Hruska told reporters that the campaign to distort the public record of Senator Curtis can have only one purpose . . . to mask and shield and cover up the failures of the Morrisson administration in this state the past six years."

"Not only has the Morrisson record been "a do-nothing performance," but it has been "marked by indecision, flip-flops and 180-degree turns," Hruska said.

Cuba Seeking Youth To Forge Into Communists

Miami (UPI)—The "Big Brother" apparatus which regulates life in Communist Cuba under Fidel Castro is lightening its grip around the island's youth so they cannot stray out of the great plans for the revolution."

The objective now, according to Cuban Communist Party Organization Secretary Armando Hart, is "the forging of a communist man."

A rabid communist himself with an almost hysterical hatred of the United States, Hart has played a key role in the Castro regime since it came to power in 1959.

Mrs. Homemaker . . . Why should you shop at an independent IGA Store?

The "I" stands for YOU in IGA!

Somebody goofed! Someone referred to IGA as a chain. Seems strange when IGA (Independent Grocers Alliance) was established just over 40 years ago to help independent grocers compete against chains . . . so that they could buy as a group and in other ways bring about group economies to KEEP THEIR PRICES LOW FOR YOU!

Remember . . . every single IGA store in Lincoln is LOCALLY OWNED, INDEPENDENTLY OWNED AND OPERATED! Your IGA grocer is your neighbor . . . a part of your community . . . because it's his community, too!

Why Me?

Competition is the key to lower prices!

The grocery business is one of the most competitive businesses in our country today. The grocer must compete to buy the best quality at the lowest prices so that he can offer You, the housewife, attractive prices that will bring you to his store rather than his competitor's . . . and there are lots and lots of competitors . . . just count 'em. AND, if he buys perishables and doesn't get the volume of customers he plans for that week . . . they must be thrown away as waste and loss to the grocer. YES MAM, competition keeps your grocery prices as lean as a hound's tooth.

The Lady Who Pushes the Cart at IGA has always been our Boss!

You have expressed desires for new grocery items, the convenience of buying many non-food items at your grocer's, savings stamps and friendly courteous service in your food shopping. We have not added these things willy-nilly, however. In the grocery business we must look with a wary eye at any added expense. WE'VE GOT TO KEEP THOSE PRICES LOW AND COMPETITIVE! So, when we add an item or a service, it's because you, the Lady Who Pushes The Cart, have told us by your response.

You've shown us you want service and Quality, too!

Yes, Service and Quality have been upgraded right along through the years, because you have demanded it . . . and we agree. BUT, you still have a wide selection at IGA. You can buy most items in TOP Quality, MEDIUM Quality or in BUDGET Grades. It's up to you to make your choice on which ever way you want to go on a given item.

No one wants raw products piled ungraded and unattractive in an open stall like a foreign bazaar . . . with no quality standards to protect you and your family.

Your Dollar still goes further at IGA!

Keep in mind, that prices on simply everything are spiralling upward . . . that includes the costs involved in running a grocery store, too. BUT the American family is the best fed family in the world today . . . And you still spend only 18c to 19c out of your dollar for food . . . compare that with up to 60c of each dollar in Russia.

And please . . . the Law of Supply and Demand hasn't been repealed. If a disastrous crop condition hits olives in Spain, the price will rise since there simply aren't enough to go around. If a freeze hits Florida oranges, then orange juice will sell at a premium . . . because there isn't enough supply. BUT if good conditions prevail on an item and there is plentiful supply . . . our price will go down . . . we've got to lower it, because we know our competitors will.

A minority Pressure Group can't express the feelings of the majority.

67 women (by actual count) met in an effort to organize a boycott on Lincoln grocers. This number included the press and several neutral and even rival opinion holders. Just over 50 women can hardly speak for some 80,000 families in the Lincoln market area. Don't be stampeded by misinformed pressure groups.

INDEPENDENTLY OWNED LOCALLY OWNED

Working together to bring you more for your money!
